Oh?

I used to work at an R&D facility where there were 13 engineers....Five of whom were "doctorate" level folks, all of whom were "coded" Amateurs. Seems they were able ot pass the code test AND "study" perfectly well.

You allegedly have THREE college degrees and can't keep from looking like a third grader with a bad attitude that CAN'T pass code because you're a lame weenie.

So what's your excuse?

No, Dopey, you wouldn't have.

You would only get unemployment benefits if you lost your job due to the loss of the job by virtue of the closing of the business or loss of adequate work to do.

Getting fired for being inept or lazy disqualifies you for unemployment benefits, even in Illinois.

> but since I left on my own

You also don't get benefits for quitting a job that continues to offer you adequate employment at the agreed upon terms.

Of course Morkie brags that he is self-sufficient and owns acreage that is not exactly in the Heartland.
Owning acreage in less than market value wetlands that sell for a dollar per hundred is, well, false at best.

My guess is that Mark inherited his property via marriage. At 42 years of age, he claims to be self-sufficient while spending his every waking hour on Usenet.

Something is very, very wrong with this picture.

It IS true. The Snopes urban legend web site has full details at http://www.snopes.com/politics/sexuality/walmart.asp

Now that Miller Brewing donated $30K to the illegal alien marches of this past Summer, and now that Walmart has turned against family values, I've cut off doing business with both companies. Political correctness of that kind is endangering this country, and we have to fight it.

I am quite sure that Morkie's claims of landlordship is yet another of his bogus claims.

Let's see if he can come up with the plat record from Houghton County's County Clerk's office...

Do any of you no-code lids remember the demonstration on Late night TV

Why are these no-code idiots so DEFENSIVE? They're winning! What have these morons got to have an attitude about? It's us REAL HAMS...us CW operators that should be slinging the mud. All they have to do is be conceived, then try to figger out how to push the mike button now and...voila...they're so-called "hams." And the puff bags in Washington and Newington have handed them all the spectrum to use for their CB operations.

A MAGNIFICENT POST FROM ROB IN ANOTHER NG - ENJOY (Ya've earned it!!)

Yessir. it was a glorious day for the annual visit with the wife's family.
The jizz condom delight in the turkey was successfully executed. Along with this I had a few days to ponder a multifaceted attack on the various elements of the household.

To be successful at this, one must observe the habits of the intended victims; learn their traits and how this knowledge can be turned against them. Find out what is near and dear to them. A small gesture to modify
the course of events in any area can have a wonderful exponential payoff.

Relax folks and enjoy the splendor of the moments.

The condom was actually a 2 wank affair, one load of jizzamazing being deposited in latex vessel on Wed evening, the other shortly after my arrival in the enemy camp. Loitering about in the kitchen provided opportunity to slip the condom into the bird after it had been rinsed and was waiting further service on the drain board. Auntie Anna was preoccupied with
the final details of the stuffing. This was a brief period of lull in meal preparation - some items already prepared, others not yet undertaken.

"Anna" I queried, "would you want a bit of this excess neck skin trimmed off
the bird? It's kinda fatty, just makes more grease to skim out of the drippings for gravy." She replied in the affirmative asking that I leave
the skin but peel the fat as best I could. This provided me with ample time
to insert the stealth load into the neck cavity of the bird - a full 24 pounder. During this process I developed an unexpected nasal drip - clear -

probably some sort of allergy to all the Avon dÈcor crap in the house.
Ahh
well, a few drips certainly would enhance the plan.

I stood by making small talk as Anna placed the stuffing inside the bird.
Being the cautious type, she wore rubber gloves for this process - protection against bacteria. How fookin lame. Ever heard of washing hands immediately afterwards? But - it added a small measure of insurance against her accidentally brushing against my previously placed offering and detecting its presence. For cautions sake, I had pierced the condom in a few places with a fork prior to insertion. There was some concern that during baking it would swell up and protrude from its hiding place.

The turkey was stuffed and set to bake and I was set to execute other parts of my plans to make the day memorable. All is well so far.

As other family members began to arrive, I set about part 2 of the plan. My little nephew Kelvin has a bit of a tasteless streak as does any 7 year old.
But in any case - he is blood kin within the clan and fair game. There's an old goose that wanders about the property - a disgusting creature resplendent with a perpetual shit stain all over her nether regions. How anything - even a nearsighted member of its own species could be induced to copulate with it defies reason. Still the old bird has a nest in the corner of the barn with a clutch of fertile eggs.
I took little Kelvin for a 'nature walk' to the barn and made a visit with the old goose part of the trip. I told Kelvin a bogus tale of how the daddy goose would come by from time to time and pee on the eggs - sort of a natural anti-freeze. Also mentioned that the old guy hadn't been around in a while. 'Speculated that perhaps the eggs might not fare so well without his attention. The old goose meanwhile was eyeing both of us with suspicion and had moved off the nest, continuing to circle around in fairly close proximity.
I told Kelvin to stand by while I checked for the presence of a rowdy young bull in the pasture before we set off to the creek on the south side of the property. A few minutes elapsed and I was rewarded with the sound of running footsteps, trumpeting goose, and screams of little Kelvin. ("I got the

of suggestion - makes ya do all the things that you never would do" - Steve
Stevens- Atomic Playboys.) Kelvin exited the barn with the goose in mid-air closing in on his neck. She delivered a set of claws to the back of his neck and a really spiffy full
mouth bite to the right ear which left a dandy blood welt. Several more lunges at the boy produced a few more nips to the back of his thighs. ( Dang

boy, I didn't say to piss directly on the goose!) The ensuing commotion
course brought the adults forth from the house with Kelvin's dad taking
the lead in chastising him for annoying the animals. Kelvin's sideways scowling
glances at me carried the message he knew he had been setup and shit
on. He did seem to take well to my next suggestion that he get one of the barn cats and snuggle it under his coat. They do like the attention and the coat helps
hold in some of the heat that would normally escape where their fur is a bit
sparse from ringworm.

Okay - on to the rest of the household festivities.

As previously mentioned, observing the traits and habits of the intended victims often yields useful information in perpetrating elements
intended
for their discomfort. I also had on my side the virtue of anonymity.
Remember - this tribe dislikes me, they ignore me, they take no notice
what I do and interact with me as little as possible. I'm tolerated at these get togethers simply by virtue of having married into the clan. It serves me
well, allowing me to move about unnoticed to perpetrate my deeds.

I had brought along a package of white rice - known for its property of

observation of the clan noted that the males tend to go take a dump prior to mealtime. Partly I suspect to eliminate the possibility of flatus while seated during the meal and mostly I suspect to increase the amount of distending the gut is capable of as they gorge themselves on the days fare.

With approximately a cup and a half of rice loosely wrapped in a pair of old nylon anklets, I proceeded to the downstairs bathroom pre-soaked the rice stopper in hot water, placed it in the toilet and stuffed it way back in the trap portion of the bowl with the handle of the toilet brush which was dutifully parked nearby. I noted the brush holder was a ceramic figurine of a Dutch girl approximately a foot tall, complete with wooden shoes and obviously hand painted. Odd - the sight of a smiling Dutch Lolita in full native garb with a toilet brush protruding from her head. A blatant mis-application of cultural traits if there ever was and further justification for my deeds. Rinse, lather and repeat for the upstairs shitter..

It was an agonizing 45 minutes before Uncle Phil - one of the more prolific grogan creators deposited a load in the downstairs crapper resulting a flood of stew across the floor. Carpeted too - nice touch for holding in phantom residual odors. With the basement shitter out of commission, it wasn't long until the main floor commode gushed forth, causing a bit of shrieking and mild cursing form my wife's cousin Angie. Angie used to be pretty hot looking but her last pregnancy has caused a noticeable sag in her tits and her once round and nicely formed ass seems to have deflated, now hanging down like the mud flaps on a garbage truck. It was decided to wait until after the meal to try unclogging the commodes. Speculation that the septic system had clogged was quickly put aside as it was noted that the rest of the household plumbing was draining just fine.

Around this time final meal prep was underway and Auntie Anna's voice was heard summoning her spouse to the kitchen. I overheard her telling him to be sure he got all of the bag containing the giblets out of the bird next time since a piece of it came out while she was spooning out the stuffing from the bird's cavity. I popped in to have a cautionary and if need be - diversionary look. A small section of the condom had come off on the scoop.

No big deal - on with the show. The bird was carved and served amidst the usual background noise. I had counted on this tribe's typical lack of attention to detail to prevent them from observing anything unusual. So far, so good. Naturally I took my meat serving from high up on the bird and passed on stuffing.

During this time, I'd had time to ponder the effectiveness of rice in stopping up the toilets. It wasn't any problem to slip a few cupfuls down each side of the kitchen sink and run a bit of hot water in behind it.

Unca Wayne and Unca Phil fetched in the electric drain snake after the meal and proceeded to work on the upstairs bathroom toilet. Typical of the ole boob he used a small diameter root auger that was way too sharp and inflicted a biting crack in the PVC piping below the floor. A leaking commode pipe is better than one that just won't flush so a bucket was placed under the leak area in the basement. It just happened that this was at one end of the family room which was populated at the present time by kids watching videos and playing. Every time the toilet was flushed the gleeful cackling of the kids could be heard from the basement as various drips plopped into the bucket. One particularly viscous entry managed to partially ooze from the pipe and hang in dangling suspense which brought forth many oos and ahhs of delighted child screeching, much to the dismay of the adults upstairs. Remember, these are good Xtian folk who wouldn't dare imagine their sproggen to be remotely entertained by such things. Yet kids will be kids and the more base elements of their nature prevailed much to the dismay of the parents.

At around this same time, Unca Wayne had been raking the turkey carcass clean of scraps to be fed to the barn cats. During his handling of the bird, the condom, well baked and empty of its contents slid forth. Those in the kitchen were stunned into absolute silence. The baby batter inside had leeched out through the holes and mingled with the stuffing.

In true pseudo Xtian fashion he exclaimed, " Goddamned sons o'

bitches!!!"
One by one the adult tribe members including myself trooped to the kitchen to see what he fuss was about. There in all its glory on the platter was the condom, browned in a few spots, torn in a few more, obviously empty. The few lady folk in the kitchen began to quietly exit to the living room growing more pale each second with ever intensifying looks of distress, except for cousin Angie who seems like the kind of girl to have gulped a Coney Island White Fish or two in her time.

Knowing that The turkey had come from a local grocery that butchers and packages their own meats, I made the comment that product tampering was almost inevitable with those affirmative action types they'd been hiring recently. Unca Phil - as devout as a closet racist, pseudo Xtian can be started chiming in with his observations that those "damned niggers and Viet Cong working there" would probably do anything they could to louse up a white man's traditions. The rest of the male sheeple started weighing in with various supportive opinions and continued to lambaste niggers, gooks, Osama, the Democrats and whoever else they could possibly think to blame for the series of downhill events in this land that had any role in leading up to this despicable act of necrobestiality.

Some of the younger cousins began to gather up their families and depart, leaving the elders to whatever dignity they could salvage as their sense of personal violation heightened. Besides, the air in the house was already a bit heavy with the remnants of the toilet overflows.

Meanwhile, the patriarch of the clan, 84 year old Grandpa Marion had settled on the living room sofa with his rumored to be girlfriend, Thelma at his side. Unca Phil was on the far end of the sofa. All were contemplating the series of events, rolling in their minds the odds of having been contaminated by the contents of the now ravaged turkey carcass. Across Marion's lap laid the household 'pet', Trixie.

Trixie is an aging, overweight, asthmatic, flatulent canine loosely related to some form of Dachsund. This animal artifact is around 9 years old, seriously spoiled and had been spending the afternoon getting stuffed with bites of everything from most of those in attendance. Trixie had visited me a short while earlier while I was out on the back sun porch having a smoke, just prior to the discovery of the condom in the turkey carcass.

I happened to have in my coat pocket a newly purchased bottle of Syrup Of Ipecac. As a current Boy Scout adult advisor, I do follow the motto of being prepared. Trixie had sought to climb onto my lap and of course I obligingly helped the old fuck make it up from the floor whereupon she quickly attempted to settle. I allowed her enough time and space to yank her head back, force open her jaws and drizzle about half the bottle into her gullet.
I then shooed her back into the house since I wanted to be sure the ensuing doggie spew would happen amongst the esteemed guests.

Well, fast forward again to Trixie lying across Grandpa Marion's lap with her snout aimed directly towards Thelma and Unca Phil. Trixie had been squirming about for a few minutes, obviously growing a bit uncomfortable as the Syrup Of Ipecac went to work. Marion noticed her salivating a bit of foamy glop at the corners of her moth and asked Auntie Anna for a paper towel. Before any aid could be administered, Trixie sat straight up and with a garbled yelp - spewed forth all of that day's contents clear across to Unca Phil, with a thick wave settling behind the lead glob and dribbling on Thelma with the remaining drizzle soaking Marion's leg. A few more gagging squawks accompanied by foamy acrid smelling vomit ensued. For a good 15 seconds from the initial rise and yelp, everyone just sat stunned and frozen in place. Then there was a was scramble, a bit of cursing -(funny how Xtians cuss when they get mad or surprised), and Trixie ran straight to the only sanctuary she truly has, Wayne and Anna's bed to resume her purge.

The adults tended to the elders, fetching towels and helping to mop up. The air filled with the acid stench of puke. Sounds of distressed adults mingled with the wailings and lamentations of a household totally fucked. Trixie could be heard in the bedroom winding up for a second round of heaves.. The glory of it all... beautiful. magnificent.

My wife came up alongside of me holding her nose with a hand cupped over her mouth. She suggested we make our departure as soon as we could. On the way to the car we were met by her cousin's husband Woody, a late 20's miscreant who like me married into the clan and was universally ignored just as I am.
He called me aside. "That was fuckin' great, man" he says. He told me that he wished he had the imagination to think of some of the sit that I pulled and suggested we could plan a joint venture for the annual 4th of July weenie roast. I concurred. We swapped a high five and I moved on to the van where the wife was already waiting.

"You and Woody seem pretty cheerful considering all that happened today." I let the remark pass without comment. On the way home wifey started telling me that next year we should consider passing up the invitation to her uncle' s house and start some holiday home traditions of our own. After a few more miles of silence she says, " Ya know - that shit couldn't happen to a more deserving bunch of pricks." I was kinda stunned at this and asked for explanation. The wife then proceeded to tell me what her side of the relationship with the family was like and how their treatment of her was quite similar to the way I was treated. As we arrived home she says - "Well, one of these days, you're gonna have to tell me all about it, mmmmkay?" One of these days I just might.

so what?
the longbow was a better weapon in many ways than the crossbow or the musket why did they replace it given your leight with "lair liar pants on fire" this is valid question but to the rest of you we are treated to a special thanksgiving day edition of the Steve show steve insts that he is dencent hetero sexual guy but he enages in the worst sort of fraud sexaul inudeno steve for example claims it is worng to speak ill of the dead and yet today he addedes a new lie his claim I have had had sx with my mother who is now dead, at least I supose I should be thankfull this day he does not I am still having sex with with her, but somehow I have trouble managing that much

Almost a year ago I choose to be far less passive and far more agressive in the nearly decade flamathon that has gone between steve and myself. an escallaion that that could been prevented if Steve had been able to advance a reason why his refferences to the sexuality of all of the posters that seriously disgareed with was proper fodder for this Newsgroup other than as a smear campign at this point Robeson has already thretened murder me and spent years harrassing me on line and off, and accusing me of child molesting and rape.

Yes in my excallation I have used unpleasent tactic against Robeson, tactic that I can only justify by refering to record attack against anyone esp his socalled "feeble five" but anyone that entered was likely subject to attack and mostly attack of sexual nature this state of affairs has conitued for some time and is now at a stage where steve has been reduced to mostly a from of partisan warfare in the NG.

Steve has been determined to hijack the NG and turn it into his own little target gallery I have decided to stop that and by and large suceeded.

I don't drink miller anyways but no I don't agree with illegal aliens getting made easy for them. If you think about it what are family values? Stating that just because someone isn't Heterosexual that they are a danger to your, kids, family, town, city, county, state, nation?
You ever thought that the havoc you are trying to cause over someone's sexuality? Ever thought that all the trouble and havoc you are trying to cause over the situation might be the true danger to what is all American, what the United States is all about? One nation indivisible?

I am in both RACES and SKYWARN and just about puke every time some CB reject say's "What's your 20?." I am forced to respond, "My location is ____, you jackass."

Did you even bother to read the material at Snopes? Somehow, I don't think that you did, because you pulled out your prerecorded response immediately after jerking your knee.

I don't give a sh*t about your sexuality, but I do take great exception to the in-your-face promotion of homosexuality that the Gay and Lesbian Alliance is all about. Since Walmart has joined (literally) with them, I now take great exeception to Walmart.

There are a lot more of "us" than there are of homophiles, and Walmart is about to find that out. Walmart backed down from not using the word "Christmas" in their stores, and now they are about to get a second lesson in staying out of social politics. I predict that, by this time next year, Walmart will have dropped out of the Gay and Lesbian Alliance.

10 signals are obsolete and are being officially dropped by most police departments in favor of plain English. The announcement has been all over CNN and FNN. Apparently, police professional organizations and Homeland Security have recommended that 10 codes be dropped, and most police departments are about to comply.

The use of 10 codes will now be the offical mark of a backward operator, just as we have always known.

Maybe the christians should practice what you have just preached. I take great exception to the bible thumpers knocking on my door and telling me that if I don't join their church, that I'm going to burn in hell. And the onslaught of phone calls telling me that I need to let their god save me. How much more "IN YOUR FACE" can you get.

I have yet to have a homo get in my face and tell me I'd better bend over and get sodomized, or else.

She has left Robesin. He eats his excrement turkey alone.

Robesin protests too much.

Robesin is an excrement eating dog.

I'll pass on the sex with amy. Who knows what she's related to.

Robesin has no problems with the flavor of excrement.

It's like this. If you disagree with Robesin, you are a homo, an excrement eater, and a pedo.

Yes, he has.

What??? You've not threatened bricks through windows, slashed tires, nor terrorized wives. Robesin has.

While Robesin makes fun of "short bus" children, he seeks pity for his own severely retarded daughter's passing. I just don't get it.

Thanks to you, Robesin is a mere ghost in the group. Thank you.

Congratulations. Robesin is a mere ghost of the POS he used to be.

It's like this. If you disagree with Robesin, you are a homo, an excrement eater, and a pedo.

While Robesin makes fun of "short bus" children, he seeks pity for his own severely retarded daughter's passing. I just don't get it.

What? YOU put a stop to it, Mork? You did no such thing. All you did was show this group what a myopic pain in the ass you really are.

Yessir. it was a glorious day for the annual visit with the wife's family.
The jizz condom delight in the turkey was successfully executed. Along with
elements of the household.

victims; learn their traits and how this knowledge can be turned against
the

Relax folks and enjoy the splendor of the moments.

The condom was actually a 2 wank affair, one load of jizzamazing being deposited in latex vessel on Wed evening, the other shortly after my arrival
to
slip the condom into the bird after it had been rinsed and was waiting
the
final details of the stuffing. This was a brief period of lull in meal preparation - some items already prepared, others not yet undertaken.

"Anna" I queried, "would you want a bit of this excess neck skin
trimmed off
the bird? It's kinda fatty, just makes more grease to skim out of the
leave
time
to insert the stealth load into the neck cavity of the bird - a full 24

pounder. During this process I developed an unexpected nasal drip - clear -
probably some sort of allergy to all the Avon d&#65533;cor crap in the house.

Ahh
well, a few drips certainly would enhance the plan.

I stood by making small talk as Anna placed the stuffing inside the bird.
Being the cautious type, she wore rubber gloves for this process - protection against bacteria. How fookin lame. Ever heard of washing hands immediately afterwards? But - it added a small measure of insurance against
places with a fork prior to insertion. There was some concern that during baking it would swell up and protrude from its hiding place.

The turkey was stuffed and set to bake and I was set to execute other parts of my plans to make the day memorable. All is well so far.

As other family members began to arrive, I set about part 2 of the plan. My little nephew Kelvin has a bit of a tasteless streak as does any 7 year old.
But in any case - he is blood kin within the clan and fair game. There's an old goose that wanders about the property - a disgusting creature resplendent with a perpetual shit stain all over her nether regions. How anything - even a nearsighted member of its own species could be induced to copulate with it defies reason. Still the old bird has a nest in the corner of the barn with a clutch of fertile eggs.
I took little Kelvin for a 'nature walk' to the barn and made a visit with the old goose part of the trip. I told Kelvin a bogus tale of how the daddy goose would come by from time to time and pee on the eggs - sort of a natural anti-freeze. Also mentioned that the old guy hadn't been around in a while. 'Speculated that perhaps the eggs might not fare so well without his attention. The old goose meanwhile was eyeing both of us with suspicion and had moved off the nest, continuing to circle around in fairly close proximity.
I told Kelvin to stand by while I checked for the presence of a rowdy young bull in the pasture before we set off to the creek on the south side of

property. A few minutes elapsed and I was rewarded with the sound of running
power
Steve
Stevens- Atomic Playboys.) Kelvin exited the barn with the goose in mid-air closing in on his neck. She
mouth bite to the right ear which left a dandy blood welt. Several more lunges at the boy produced a few more nips to the back of his thighs. ( Dang

the lead in chastising him for annoying the animals. Kelvin's sideways scowling
glances at me carried the message he knew he had been setup and shit
on. He did seem to take well to my next suggestion that he get one of the barn
cats
hold in some of the heat that would normally escape where their fur is a bit
sparse from ringworm.

Okay - on to the rest of the household festivities.

intended
intended
for their discomfort. I also had on my side the virtue of anonymity.
what I do and interact with me as little as possible. I'm tolerated at these get togethers simply by virtue of having married into the clan. It serves me

observation of the clan noted that the males tend to go take a dump
prior to

mealtime. Partly I suspect to eliminate the possibility of flatus while seated during the meal and mostly I suspect to increase the amount of distending the gut is capable of as they gorge themselves on the days fare.

With approximately a cup and a half of rice loosely wrapped in a pair of old
nylon anklets, I proceeded to the downstairs bathroom pre-soaked the rice stopper in hot water, placed it in the toilet and stuffed it way back in the trap portion of the bowl with the handle of the toilet brush which was dutifully parked nearby. I noted the brush holder was a ceramic figurine of a Dutch girl approximately a foot tall, complete with wooden shoes and obviously hand painted. Odd - the sight of a smiling Dutch Lolita in full native garb with a toilet brush protruding from her head. A blatant mis-application of cultural traits if there ever was and further justification for my deeds. Rinse, lather and repeat for the upstairs shitter..

It was an agonizing 45 minutes before Uncle Phil - one of the more prolific
grogan creators deposited a load in the downstairs crapper resulting a flood of stew across the floor. Carpeted too - nice touch for holding in phantom residual odors. With the basement shitter out of commission, it wasn't long until the main floor commode gushed forth, causing a bit of shrieking and mild cursing form my wife's cousin Angie. Angie used to be pretty hot looking but her last pregnancy has caused a noticeable sag in her tits and
her once round and nicely formed ass seems to have deflated, now hanging down like the mud flaps on a garbage truck. It was decided to wait until after the meal to try unclogging the commodes. Speculation that the septic system had clogged was quickly put aside as it was noted that the rest of the household plumbing was draining just fine.

heard summoning her spouse to the kitchen. I overheard her telling him to be sure he got all of the bag containing the giblets out of the bird next

time since a piece of it came out while she was spooning out the stuffing from the bird's cavity. I popped in to have a cautionary and if need be - diversionary look. A small section of the condom had come off on the scoop.
No big deal - on with the show. The bird was carved and served amidst
the usual background noise. I had counted on this tribe's typical lack of attention to detail to prevent them from observing anything unusual. So far, so good. Naturally I took my meat serving from high up on the bird and passed on stuffing.

During this time, I'd had time to ponder the effectiveness of rice in stopping up the toilets. It wasn't any problem to slip a few cupfuls down
each side of the kitchen sink and run a bit of hot water in behind it.

Unca Wayne and Unca Phil fetched in the electric drain snake after the meal and proceeded to work on the upstairs bathroom toilet. Typical of the ole boob he used a small diameter root auger that was way too sharp and inflicted a biting crack in the PVC piping below the floor. A leaking commode pipe is better than one that just won't flush so a bucket was placed under the leak area in the basement. It just happened that this was at one end of the family room which was populated at the present time by kids watching videos and playing. Every time the toilet was flushed the gleeful cackling of the kids could be heard from the basement as various drips plopped into the bucket. One particularly viscous entry managed to partially ooze from the pipe and hang in dangling suspense which brought forth many oos and ahhs of delighted child screeching, much to the dismay of the adults
upstairs. Remember, these are good Xtian folk who wouldn't dare imagine their sproggen to be remotely entertained by such things. Yet kids will be kids and the more base elements of their nature prevailed much to the dismay

of the parents.

clean of scraps to be fed to the barn cats. During his handling of the bird, the condom, well baked and empty of its contents slid forth. Those in

the kitchen were stunned into absolute silence. The baby batter inside had leeched out through the holes and mingled with the stuffing.
In true pseudo Xtian fashion he exclaimed, " Goddamned sons o'
bitches!!!"
One by one the adult tribe members including myself trooped to the kitchen to see what he fuss was about. There in all its glory on the platter was the condom, browned in a few spots, torn in a few more, obviously empty.
The few lady folk in the kitchen began to quietly exit to the living room growing more pale each second with ever intensifying looks of distress, except for cousin Angie who seems like the kind of girl to have gulped a Coney Island
White Fish or two in her time.

Knowing that The turkey had come from a local grocery that butchers and

packages their own meats, I made the comment that product tampering was almost inevitable with those affirmative action types they'd been hiring

recently. Unca Phil - as devout as a closet racist, pseudo Xtian can be started chiming in with his observations that those "damned niggers and Viet

Cong working there" would probably do anything they could to louse up a white man's traditions. The rest of the male sheeple started weighing in with various supportive opinions and continued to lambaste niggers, gooks, Osama, the Democrats and whoever else they could possibly think to blame for the series of downhill events in this land that had any role in leading up

to this despicable act of necrobestiality.

Some of the younger cousins began to gather up their families and depart, leaving the elders to whatever dignity they could salvage as their sense of personal violation heightened. Besides, the air in the house was already a bit heavy with the remnants of the toilet overflows.

Meanwhile, the patriarch of the clan, 84 year old Grandpa Marion had settled on the living room sofa with his rumored to be girlfriend, Thelma at his side. Unca Phil was on the far end of the sofa. All were contemplating

series of events, rolling in their minds the odds of having been contaminated by the contents of the now ravaged turkey carcass. Across Marion's lap laid the household 'pet', Trixie.
Trixie is an aging, overweight, asthmatic, flatulent canine loosely related to some form of Dachsund. This animal artifact is around 9 years old, seriously spoiled and had been spending the afternoon getting stuffed with bites of everything from most of those in attendance. Trixie had visited me a short while earlier while I was out on the back sun porch having a smoke,
just prior to the discovery of the condom in the turkey carcass.

I happened to have in my coat pocket a newly purchased bottle of Syrup
Of
Ipecac. As a current Boy Scout adult advisor, I do follow the motto of being prepared. Trixie had sought to climb onto my lap and of course I obligingly helped the old fuck make it up from the floor whereupon she quickly attempted to settle. I allowed her enough time and space to yank her head back, force open her jaws and drizzle about half the bottle into her gullet.
I then shooed her back into the house since I wanted to be sure the ensuing doggie spew would happen amongst the esteemed guests.

Well, fast forward again to Trixie lying across Grandpa Marion's lap
with her snout aimed directly towards Thelma and Unca Phil. Trixie had been squirming about for a few minutes, obviously growing a bit uncomfortable as the Syrup Of Ipecac went to work. Marion noticed her salivating a bit
of
foamy glop at the corners of her moth and asked Auntie Anna for a paper towel. Before any aid could be administered, Trixie sat straight up and with a garbled yelp - spewed forth all of that day's contents clear across

to Unca Phil, with a thick wave settling behind the lead glob and dribbling on Thelma with the remaining drizzle soaking Marion's leg. A few more gagging
squawks accompanied by foamy acrid smelling vomit ensued. For a good 15 seconds from the initial rise and yelp, everyone just sat stunned and frozen

cuss when they get mad or surprised), and Trixie ran straight to the only sanctuary she truly has, Wayne and Anna's bed to resume her purge.

air filled with the acid stench of puke. Sounds of distressed adults mingled with the wailings and lamentations of a household totally fucked. Trixie could be heard in the bedroom winding up for a second round of heaves.. The glory of it all... beautiful. magnificent.

My wife came up alongside of me holding her nose with a hand cupped over her mouth. She suggested we make our departure as soon as we could. On the way to the car we were met by her cousin's husband Woody, a late 20's miscreant who like me married into the clan and was universally ignored just as I am.
He called me aside. "That was fuckin' great, man" he says. He told me that
and suggested we could plan a joint venture for the annual 4th of July weenie roast. I concurred. We swapped a high five and I moved on to the van where the wife was already waiting.

"You and Woody seem pretty cheerful considering all that happened today." I let the remark pass without comment. On the way home wifey started telling me that next year we should consider passing up the invitation to her uncle' s house and start some holiday home traditions of our own. After a few more miles of silence she says, " Ya know - that shit couldn't happen to a more deserving bunch of pricks." I was kinda stunned at this and asked for
relationship with the family was like and how their treatment of her was quite similar to the way I was treated. As we arrived home she says -
"Well,
one of these days, you're gonna have to tell me all about it, mmmmkay?"

One
of these days I just might.

Absolutely hilarious!!

Did YOU even bother to read what was written at Snopes?

The only money going back to GLBT was what was sold via the link from the GLBT websites, NOT from any other Wal-Mart store or online Wal-Mart sales. That sort of thing is done all the time, just like rebates from Discover card. It's a tool designed to boost sales. Period.

Oh no, where will you be able to get a good price for all that tinfoil you

They don't like to be reminded about that contest. It shows the difference between skilled and un-skilled. It also gets back to that liberal political correctness thing. Everyone has to be equal, since not everyone is good enough to rise to the top, they got to drag the top down.

You're the one crapping on the RRAP Markie. You could ignore the threads that you don't like, but no, you crap on them and it makes the group crappy.

Why not talk about good things, like how you're going to try to learn CW and be a good ham?

Actually, you're more likely to be the one that should be riding a horse.
It doesn't require you to be smart enough to pass a test in order to ride it.

It's hard to mess up a long wire, but if anyone can mess one up, Todd probably can.

In Markie's misfiring mind he is convinced that he is in the process of vanquishing the oppressors from this and other newsgrooups. He sees himself as a knight in shining armor coming to the rescue of a non-existant damsel in distress, the "damsel" being r.r.a.p.

I just looked up "lid" - a poor operator, one who does not follow proper procedures or sends sloppy Morse code. (Not me on either count. It's a silly insult to throw around when you don't know somebody.)

Moderator, can we rename this thread? I think "Mode Rage" sounds right.

(If it keeps going, I can claim that you're not real hams if you don't do Amateur TV at 1.2 GHz. Then what?)

I never said any of that, Brain.

What I HAVE said is I wonder if your families know how you act in a public forum.

Do you lie to your wife and kids like you do in here?

> > Stevie Claims a lot of #####

I have all the "documentation" I need right here when it comes to you two...your own words. Lot's of it. Over and over.

As for my affiliation with MARS, well, you have the dates, callsigns, etc. Any 12 year old who's watched a week's worth of CSI could follow those leads.

And so far you've been making the not so veiled suggestion that I said all of those as a threat against you, Lennie, or whomever.

It's yet more evidence of your own lying, Burke.

So far you've not made good on substantiating THAT claim.

Do you not see why it's so easy to prove you a liar, Burke?

Do these posts need to wind up in your wife's hands so SOMEone can get you into the help you need to stop your erratic behaviour...?!?!

(Please don't give me any more of that cock-of-the-walk "You better not.." language either, Brain...You need help...lot's of it...)

All that you need prehaps. since you need none at all I am sure you have that but you don't back it up for anyone else. You don't use our own word you make stuff up, or you distort the context, or at best you start assume, and if you were ever a maraine you know what ASSuME means

Now I will never try to stop you from making an ASS of yourself, that

I don't. I'll wager he doesn't, since you haven't proven anything.

None even yur membership in Mars, not that I realy doubt it (or care) but you have not proved it, You are too lazy to do that you want him to prove it for you.

Well I know I will not carry your baggage I doubt brain will either

It's not your family's interest, Mark. It's yours.

You need help. Someone needs to get you to it since you won't go on your own.

Sure I do.

Brain insisted that I was never in MARS and know nothing about it.

I made one error as it pertainted to Chief MARS, and he now claims my lack of knowledge on MARS is "vast".

I gave him sepcific dates, times, places, callsigns, even military units of assignment where pertinent.

Then he said, "Oh, I need "DOCUMENTATION".

Whelp, he's got far more information to verify MY claims than any he's ever provided for any claim he's ever made.

As far as I am concerned, the information's been delivered.

> You don't use our own word
> you make stuff up, or you distort the context, or at best you start

Nothing's made up, Mark.

Even YOU have the resources to verify anything I've ever said in this forum except that I won't discuss my combat service in the Corps.
If Lennie and Brain want to subsequently say "it didn't happen", well, they can have fun doing it but they'd still be wrong.

Oh Markie! You're lost in space, alright!

And how silly of ME...Guess 41 year olds don't watch CSI, eh...?!?!

Remember what you said about "assume", Markie...?!?!

No...it's NOT you...You flatter yourself.

The "honor" of being Brain's string puller belongs to another.

Guilt of what?

> > So far you've not made good on substantiating THAT claim.

No, I've not.

However Brain HAS made MY point that he's a pathological liar.

Over and over and over and over and.................

> > Do you not see why it's so easy to prove you a liar, Burke?

> I don't. I'll wager he doesn't, since you haven't proven anything.

Sure I have. Repeatedly.

His suggestion that comments I made about how Internet antagonists like Lennie Anderson have incited people to do the aforementioned violent acts was a "thinly veiled threat" being one of them.

Brain could defend his accusations then, he can't do it now.

Then we can recycle his "ARES is overblown" comments, followed up with reams of reports of how ARES teams are being lauded and the federal government is pouring in $100's of thousands of dollars to support ARES programs.

Let's not forget his "Unlicensed devices play a major role in emergency comms" rant, along with his "I was legal DX from Somalia" stories.

> None even yur membership in Mars, not that I realy doubt it (or care)

> Well I know I will not carry your baggage I doubt brain will either

You're not man enough to carry MY "baggage", Mark, and Brain couldn't find it.

Brain was given information so he could independently verify it.
I am quote sure that even if I got replacemtn copies of old licenses and authorizations, he'd claim them "altered" or other such silliness.

He'd have a hard time calling the folks in the various MARS or USMC offices liars, though.

> > Do these posts need to wind up in your wife's hands so SOMEone can

It's only blackmail if I stand to gain from the act, Mark.

Brain (and you, for that matter) are in need of definitive care.
Sometimes it takes the insistance of the family to push a person to do what's right.

> > (Please don't give me any more of that cock-of-the-walk "You

Nope.

Sorry, Mark..."cock" does NOT exclusively refer to male genitalia.

Do some research on what "cock-of-the-walk" means.

Adding a space?

What are you talking about?

Guess you ought to look at QRZ and see how my name's spelled, Mark. Of course I know accuracy and truth are not your strong suits.

You are lying again but which is the lie Stevie, that you carry on this becuase you are a sadist or becuase youcareabout or is it simpleir than that are both a lie

As I suspect you have all you need, which may wel be none at all
The rest of us have higher standards

You admit to one error from experence I'd there exist at least 10 errors for every one you admit to

So

You the lazy bum you are want him to do the work of proving YOUR Claim

I am sure you think so, don't make it so

You have made lots of stuff Not in position to say what you made up vs what you distorted beyond all reason w.r.t. Brain Idon't eneough about him

A simple lie I don't have those resourses, not without digging for them at best, and to say I might be able to dig out of yoour lies and obfucations the data is being generous in assuimng that your aren't lying win saying I can.

But I digress it is not MY job to prove YOUR Claims. It is not Brain or

Lennies Job either. They are YOUR claims YOU back em up

As your Claims of comabt if memory serves (and it may not) you claims to have served under a General with REALLY big ego problems (to go with a his military skills) MacArther when the Chinesse entered that war, not that I neccesaly believe it that but as I recal that was one of your claims Never said any such thing, the above is your distortion of what I have said, it is your straw man, you made up claim. as result BTW your presuming that YOU can dictate how people use the english language

perhaps you are, but I doubt it

One and this is not an atteck on ARES but simple statement of fact, the Govt pours Millions into sewer studing the contents therein. Being Govt funded is NOT eveidence that funded program has merit

Two Hams are certainly overblown inthier beliefs of what they do in the

Arnold the Govt and Jessie Ventura and the current Ms Unerverse are not man enough to carry your Baggage Stevie, I wonder if your baggage can be carry by a C-5 Galaxy. No shame in admiting I can't carry your baggage, not do I intend to try

Nope, there will be no carrying of Robeson's baggage. His baggage is his own, and if it's too overwhelming for him to carry, that's of his own making. Even the females have to carry their own baggage in the service. Suggest Robeson toughen up a little and do the same, if he's up to it. And quit his whining.

No, I'm not lying.

You need help.

You're a chronic liar and have some very serious personal issues that need professional resolution.

That you even remotely suggest that you have "higher standards" is one of your more laughable and absolutely ludicrous assertions, Mark.

Just wading through the abortion of writing that you dare call English proves it.

You refuse to do those things that would demonstrate that you are doing those things necessary to improve and advance yourself.

Your "standards" are lies and deceit wrapped around ignorance and functional illiteracy.

Then you're certainly at liberty to provide evidence of that claim, Mark...

We'll wait right here and add it to the list of OTHER things you've claimed like a commission in the Armed Forces.

> > I gave him sepcific dates, times, places, callsigns, even military

So indeed.

You and he claim I don't give specifics.

There's proof in this very forum that that assertion is a lie.

Nope.

He wanted specifics. I gave them.

The fact that I did it DOES make it so.

The fact that you and Brain try to make it appear otherwise is laughable.

It's no lie.

You have the resources.

What you DON'T ahve is either the guts to use them OR you really are as ignorant as I have supposed and don't realize that you have them.

There's nothing for ME to "dig out of", Mark.

I've not lied about anything.

And you're right about ONE thing...ME granting that YOU can "do" something >>IS<< being generaous.

I have been in combat. I don't discuss it here.

And EVERY man and woman in uniform serves under a general in their military career from the day they get off the bus at boot camp. (Gee "Colonel", you didn't KNOW that...?!?!

No ego. Fact.

It's absolutely NOT a "distortion".

You claimed you were drafted.

You claimed you were a field grade officer.

You then claimed you were a company grade officer.

You followed that up by claiming that your "comandig oficer" refused to release you from active duty becasue your MOS was so "critcal"

I did some digging and found...

...nothing. You never served a day in the Armed Forces of the United States as either Enlisted or Officer, Active, Reserve or Guard.

When I bust THAT bubble you tried the "I was using a fake name" routine.

Let's just face it...

Mrs Mark C Morgan is married to a chronic liar.

Huge snip of Markie trash.....

No, Mark...YOU are the "this is a fake name" specialist. (Brain and Lennie are close seconds with numerous screen names or nomme-de-guerre's...)

Stop lying. You're not any good at it.

And who knows...Maybe if we "catch you in the truth" three times in a row I'll have a heart attack and all your problems will be over...But that's not likely so I won't worry about keeping my insurance card handy...

MY english has nothing to with it

That you think it serves as proof of your standards of prrove is eveidence of just how low those standards are.

(now wating foryour pretend you didn't understand

You know this HOW?

you are either

ONE stlaking more closing than I am aware of or

TWO lieing in claiming you know much about what I do

Lie I claim you did not give proof, Brain's claims are his own affair

so above are 2 lies.

One that I claim you did not give specifics

Two that Brain and I ask for the same thing

which assertion? the one you made up

If you had whcih I see no evidence of as i said I am sure you think so, don't make it so.

You claim to think I am marring first Todd then brain don't make it so either

One your spelling is slipping

Two, It sin't a matter of guts, it is a matter of caring. I don't if served at all. I'd rather beleive you did not, but I suspect you have, you show enough signs of service brain washing something my own mind never took to, thank the gods, that it is likely true

Three you seem to want people to beleive YOUR claims so you need to carry the freight

If there is nothing to dig out then I lack the resources to verfy your claims

you sure have again

Re: I Stand Corrected On N9OGL/KB9RQZ Wedding...It's N0IMD/KB9RQZ...

your words and another lie another lie and an easy one. You know I can do something therefore it is not generous of you to admit that

Not that I have found

so

But (again) I digress it is not MY job to prove YOUR Claims. It is not

Brain or Lennies Job either. They are YOUR claims YOU back em up of course I know which of course has nothing to do with I said, but if you red I mentioned that I seem to recall you claiming to serve a particular General

Doug Mac Arthur had enough ego for 10 generals, as well as, being quite a soldier

Never said anything about my "comandig oficer" never had one

And never said anything about refusing to discharge me form ACTIVE duty at all

you just assumed it

You found this with my precise name Social secruity numberor address.
my my

You even claimed that there was Nobody name Mark Morgan ever in the Army

You wishing it were so doesn't make it true.

The reason that your specifics aren't being accepted is that you have less than a stellar record when it comes to the truth.

So...

Authentic Documentation is required. And two Photo ID's. Got any?

There's absolutely NOTHING funny about seeing an adult act the way you do in public, Mark...Kinda sickening, actually.

Sure it does. To call what you write "English" might be enough to get the real English to start a war over it....

And just "wat" are you wating for me to prrove"...?!?!

You manage to get sentences out there, Mark, no doubt...However it's not without a lot of work and imagination.

I've taken care of 5 year olds with better sentence construction than you.

I don't have to go ANY FARTHER than the chair I am presently reclining in to see EXACTLY what I claimed in the above is true, Mark...You're doing NOTHING to improve yourself.

You refuse to use $10 worth of technology to clean up the "dreck" you insist is "coherent English" here, and you act like a five year old.

Nope.

You refuse to fix it. You've been told that your "writing" is crap and that half of what you write is unintelligigble.

The technology exists to fix it. You refuse.

> Lie I claim you did not give proof, Brain's claims are his own affair

I did give proof. Information that any idiot could follow to logical conclusion.

If I get arrested and the cops say "Where were you at 5PM and I say "Joe's Bar", I don't have to produce a receipt...Just third parties who can corroborate that I was indeed there.

Brain was given MORE than adequate information to answer his questions.

He was just embarrssed to get the answers becasue he knew that I wouldn't give him them knowing that the person on the other end of the line would tell him what I've been saying all along.

> so above are 2 lies.

> One that I claim you did not give specifics

I did give specifics, so you are the liar.

> Two that Brain and I ask for the same thing

I bet you and Brain DO ask for the same thing. Just not in public.

> > There's proof in this very forum that that assertion is a lie.

> which assertion? the one you made up

I've not "made up" any assertion.

> > > > Then he said, "Oh, I need "DOCUMENTATION".

When I gave him all the specifics pertaining to his questions.
All he had to do was copy them off and "make the calls".

He didn't do it. He's a coward. Just like you.

There's no "story to keep straight", Mark.

The information's the same no matter what.

Sure it makes it so. It's in this forum's archives.

It wouldn't make it so, but it wouldn't be a surprise, either.

But you two ARE "in bed" together...We've seen evidence of it in this forum.

So why would it be such a stretch to see it eally happen?

Snip what out of context? It was trash in the first place.

And it's "d i s t o r t i o n s", Mark. If you're going to allege a distortion, at least spell THAT right, OK...?!?!

Do you have a computer tied to the Internet, Mark?

Does it have a search engine?

Then you have the resources I said you have.

Yep.

It's not BS.

It's facts.

Now...let's get down to what you REALLY don't have...that's INITIATIVE.

In THAT regard I could agree with you.

WTF did you just say...?!?!?!?!?!?!?!

"Carry the freight"...??!?! Why? I am an ER Nurse, not a FedEx delivery guy.

As for any information I have, well, I answered the questions asked.

Now...if BRAIN would just answer the ones that have been put to him for YEARS.....

I just looked up "lid" - a poor operator, one who does not follow proper procedures or sends sloppy Morse code. (Not me on either count. It's a silly insult to throw around when you don't know somebody.)

Moderator, can we rename this thread? I think "Mode Rage" sounds right.

There is no moderator here. Mark, however, considers himself to the de-facto self-appointed Knight-In-Shining-Armor/protector/moderator who defends no-coders against the onslaught of us pro-coders. Of course it is worth noting that Mark is the only no-coder in this group.

Mark has not mastered the art of even 5wpm and stubbornly maintains that he will never do so. He posits that he should be handed a General or above license because he feels CW is outdated. This from a guy who cannot author a cohesive sentence and who, despite many freeware spell check programs, refuses to make an effort toward rendering his third grade level disjointed posts readable.

Mark continues to assert that he is trying to clean up this newsgroup (rrap) while in reality his fifty to sixty (often more) daily posts have driven many of the previous Hams away.

When Mark blundered into this newsgroup with his trash, it was the old cliche', There Went The Neighborhood.

Of course Mark will have to comment. As Slow Code has previously noted, Mark simply cannot let a post go by without crapping on it. As always, Mark will change the subject line.
Sorry, Mork. I won't read your response. I no longer read the fifty to sixty posts you change the Subject line on.

Garsh, Woger Wabbit. You are up rather late, aren't you?

Are you prepping another box full of goodies to send to Mark?
Best figure out how to send it from another county, Wabbit. The post marks gave you away on the last one...

BTW, Wabbit. Postal Inspectors are sworn law enforcement officers with full arrest authority. If they pay you a visit I would suggest that you not run.
Oh, and Wabbit? If they come knocking with a warrant, answer the door. If you don't, they will kick it in. Stenger would LOVE to watch that!

Did you read it?? It said that it is "partnering" with the GLA to "promote diversity" and promote non typical gay marriages. Everytime I hear that buzz phrase "promote diveristy" I can feel the little hairs on my neck standing up, because what that really means is promoting non traditional values. Since I have a SuperWalmart within a stones throw of me, its going to be difficult not to go there but this tears it with me and no doubt hundreds of thousands or more of us lowly tradiionalists that happen to believe not only do words mean things but so do actions like this. They really are sticking their noses where they dont belong,,, no pun intended, and I think they are going to get bit in the long run.

Of course you are correct. But also unfortunately almost all news groups are rapidly becoming socio-politcal-BS. About all you can do is killfile the people who constantly post this crap, and maybe all those that respond. But then you end up with a handful of people left who arent killfiled.

Do you mean me (N2EY)?

Besides, what's wrong with anonymous posting? Neither your name nor callsign appears anywhere in your postings as "hot-ham-and-cheese". If that's OK for you to do, what's wrong with others doing the same thing?

In the past you've used many screen names without any mention of your name or call.

Your buddy Len Anderson has used many screen names here, too, without his name appearing anywhere in his postings.

Nope. "Slow Code" is someone else. Not me.

Perhaps you are "Slow Code". Or maybe Len is "Slow Code". Could be Bruce, too.

> See what happens when you > deceive people and get caught? They never trust you after that.

What deception?

You've used many screen names without any mention of your name or call. Is "hot-ham-and-cheese" a deception? How about "billy beeper"?

Your buddy Len Anderson has used many screen names here, too, without his name appearing anywhere in his postings. Were all those screen names deceptions?

Or do you simply have a double standard when it comes to anonymous postings?

The trouble with a code is that it is designed to keep people out. Once you've learned the 'secret' code, it makes you feel that you have something that you, and a select group of others can participate in.
Once you're up there, see how quickly you pull the ladder up.
Does a proficiency in CW make for a better operator? Yes, in a way. It shows a studious interest in the hobby and is a worth achievement but does it make a more courtious or interesting operator? Certainly not, and this group is witness to that.
"People who don't use code are lazy", What? Is that the only discipline available to allow someone to experiment with radio? Absolutely not!
How about learning electronics and building your own equipment? Is that a lesser or a greater achievement?
How about taking the hobby forward by progressing and leading cutting edge technologies? It was after all the amateur fraternity who brought this new fangled SSB phone mode. Were are at the dawn of a new digital age on all you people can do is look backwards and remain firmly rooted in the seventeenth century.
Come on, wake up and smell the 21st century.

The purpose amateur radio is communications. Real HAMs can communicate with CW and they also speak English, Spanish, and French. Those who can only speak English are stupid, idiots, turkeys, and are only wimpy HAMs. Real HAMs are also a little narrow minded, intolerant and arrogant. If you are one of those open minded and tolerant people you are not a real HAM and you are probably a liberal, left-wing, homo-faggot.

Funny post.
No-code ops usually don't give a hoot about getting on the HF bands. They are content with VHF/UHF communications, and so learning CW is not necessary since that mode is for repeater I.D. AND NOTHING ELSE.
As far as learning the code, I see that as not only the most productive mode for HF communication, but as a rite of passage.
The code tests should be more than 5 WPM, IMO.

There is a 3rd option that I'm testing, you can filter key words or phrases. If a message contains these words its filtered like you could filter all messages that contain "Boycott Walmart" no matter who sends them, but if that person wants to post something 'normal' it comes thru. Naturally Slow Code and Markie are permently killfiled, but I think this filter system once set up (which might take a little while) should work good :)

In reality, he wound up with the Scottish verdict, "Not proven."
There were not many who sincerely believed he didn't do it, least of all his own defense attorney, the late great Johnnie Cochran who didn't become rich by being stupid.

He was never off the hook. He was after all successfully sued by relatives of Ron Goldman claiming wrongful death.

I guess in Scotland, a complete acquittal means that a dozen people say they can't see that the defendant is guilty as charged, and that's the legal end of the matter. In other English common law countries including this one, there's the stigma of "Well, he did beat the rap, but..."

SSB is a period stain on the panties of radio communication. I hate SSB. I prefer narrowband FM, or AM even, for quality and lack of annying squawk. Baudot RTTY is fun too.

Make people build something to get the General license and make them show competence to where a two way or broadcast facility would hire them for the Extra.

Yes he was, at a second trial for the same crime. That is called double jeopardy. Do you think everyone that gets a NOT GUILTY verdict in court should be tried over and over till a guilty verdict is returned? Don't you think a civil trail for financial remuneration for a criminal offence should be restricted to guilty people.

The jury was not a hung jury in the criminal case. If it had been a new trial could have been facilitated. He was found NOT GUILTY! That should have ended it.

I was once charged with a serious crime and the case was dismissed without a trial when I proved I was innocent. I have since, at my own expense, had to prove that case was dismissed and I was innocent twice. This has cost me thousands of dollars. In my case no crime was committed and the party that claimed it had was advised to leave the state or face charges for filing false reports. I am not allowed to go after that person to recover my expenses even though the lies of that person have cost me a lot of money.

There is this thing called a comma. We have three things here:

1. Solder.
2. Troubleshoot.
3. Use test equipment to determine if a radio operator is, or is not, in compliance.

Three separate activities.

Guess I may as well plonk the rest of you guys too. This CW / Code argument is disgusting. What the FUCK are you going to argue about IF and WHEN the FCC should decide to DROP it? Get a fucking life already. Most of you have been plonked to avoid reading this stupid shit. Start a fucking news group - CW/CODE and it's benefits or lack thereof - LEAVE this room for what it is for - SWAPPING.

"rite of Pasage" their you have the basic Rub of the whole issue if I may focus the point . I and other NoCode test advocates feel that the Govt has NO right to impose or support any rite of passage stuff either in radio or elsewhere

as to it usefulness in HF I don't see it . if am I not going the ehar the other Id rather deal with a keyboard of deal with another CW mode Hell where the eye rather than the ear deal with the fuzy mode there believe or not where we come the closest to agreeing. I see no value at all in 5wpm test it is should go away (which is what I think should or should always have been higher to produce a use operator) the current system which I only supported going as step to ending testing is Hilary care for the mode

Ah, but English is a wonderful and bizarre language. The beauty of the sentence is that it can, indeed (ESPECIALLY with the commas) be read the way Bill brought up.

If an FM rig is all one has for 2m, it is easy to believe that there is little CW activity on that band.

If repairing equipment is your only aim, theory will do nicely. CW skill will be of use in operating your gear.

Well, instead of a year, it only took Wal-mart a few days to back away from their preposterious position. A threatened boycott seemed to do the trick, just as I suggested in a previous post. Wal-mart is all about profit; not principle, and they'll sell out at the drop of a hat.
The relevant excerpt is as follows:

"While stressing its commitment to diversity and equality, Wal-Mart (WMT) said in its statement that it "will not make corporate contributions to support or oppose highly controversial issues unless they directly relate to our ability to serve our customers."

"Mona Williams, Wal-Mart's vice president of communications, said in a telephone interview that the company would continue working with the Gay and Lesbian Chamber of Commerce and other gay-rights groups on specific issues such as workplace equality."

"Going forward, we would partner with them on specific initiatives. ...
As to opposed to just giving blanket support to their general operating budget," she said. -- http://www.foxnews.com/story/0,2933,231259,00.html

See there? Stick up for traditional values, and these people cave in and run away. It's one more win for the good guys. We've got Christmas back at Wal-mart and gay marriage support is out on its derriere.

I love it when a plan comes together.

The way you have it written conjoins all three activities into one, which is applied to determining if the radio operator, etc, etc.

Here's a better way:

"More important is that Extras at least should have to prove they can solder, troubleshoot, and in addition, use test equipment do determine if a radio operator is or is not in compliance.

There are some other styles that could be used too, but just stinging together words separated by commas is begging for misinterpretation.
Perhaps you were absent that day.

"Unambiguous" is one of my favorite words. :-)

You are right...no-code is what you should advocate since you couldn't pass 5WPM, let alone 13 or 20 as it was.
Stay at VHF...it's where you need to be.

How could anyone deduce that from that ridiculously atrocious steaming pile of horseplop?

I have _zero_ patience in trying to scroll through a long-ass, headache-inducing, poorly spelled series of meandering, meaningless diatribes. The illiteracy of that person's blog is appalling. And, don't you get sassy with me, whoever you are. "Bailiff, whack his pee-pee!"

That, and what possible relevance does this merit cross-posting this garbage to a group for Cleveland Browns fans? That's the point, corksmoking zipless wonder.

Mark,

Eagle was stating that, since you may have difficulty passing a >5wpm Morse test (or are reticent to do the work necessary to pass it), you should advocate dropping the requirement altogether. I expect you won't need to advocate it because, over the past 20 years, the FCC has made it increasingly easy to pass a Morse test.

In 1970, the requirement was letter-perfect copy of at least 1 minute out of 5 of random characters. It was impossible to "fill in" any missed characters. As a Novice, we had no voice privelages (part of the FCC's "Incentive Licensing" structure). Most Novices & Techs who were interested in increased privelages on HF had no issues with doing the "work" necessary to upgrade. I might've taken to it better than most but, within 12 months, my Morse speed was good enough to pass the Extra exam.

My point is that like anything, Morse can be thought of as work or unecessary, or you can give it a chance to grow on you. I'm not saying you should do it (just) because many of us "had to". I'm saying you don't know how enjoyable it can be until you try it.

are you realy dumb enough to think I do not know what he meant

i choose to take his words at face value, for the comedic value eagle is just one of the ProCode cowards that refuse to even sign their name to bashing NoCoder like myself obviously you have not read much of my writing. I spent 5 years trying and failing I have taken and failed more than 100 code tests the legal standard of imposible is basical a year of trying something even listening to it and trying to break it out of sound gives me a headache I don't want to listen to it any more than I want to listen to RTTY or Hellshreiabe or JT65 modes

it simply not worth my time which is a mtter whole aprt from the issue of wether the mode should tested for give a real, convincing arguement why we should continue code tsting I will support continueing it, dispite the impact that would have on me the constition amend 10 restricts anything note covered by the document to states or to the people the supremacy cluase makes the constituion and the traties the supreme law of the land

therfore anything not coevered by the constituion or by treaty is Mine therefore as matter of law the burden is on the resrictin to prove it is needed till 2003 code testing had that ..now it does not have that most persons agreed ONLY the treaty langauge kept the testing in place

why drop it becuase it can not justified as a matter of law

Again the identity theme y'all are ate up with..he tells us to call a number he throws out,,then demands to know who we are prior to calling?

Gee, Geo,,this is lelnad logic.

Ah see there is a lie on your part and of course a normal distortion of the truth,I did say though you have a right to know who is calling you on the telephone is what I said . I see you did the normal twisty hack job.

Ill say it again for you I never demanded anything, I made a statement and stand by it, Yet it is your quote(as seen below) that is a demand, as noted
you ask for his name and when he didn't give in to your demands you call him
names. LOL Hypocrite sucks to be you.

Twisty wrote "You were asked who one should ask for when calling and

LOL look at you, go back and read, It was you who demanded to know who he was when he didn't answer you you called him a pink muffin, get off the drugs twisty they be really messing with your head.

>when cornered you will do anything to survive

I missed nothing except your demand to know who he was and then your callin him a name when he didn't give in to your demands... LOL I made a statement that your too pussy to give your name if you called him. Now who demanded
what snot nose...

You got that right twist. Check any thread were he responds. He just finished getting mad at me for being wrong again and what does he do??? Start the racial negative stupid stuff that he would never say to anyone's face. He is a name calling cock sucking dope.

Oh relax chimbrotha, your getting your panties in a bunch. Go back to your long nose suburban, with those big goofy antennas on them and sit in central park, or grenwich village and keydown somemore. Just what Nyc needs, more noise pollution.

Hey George W. Busch, why have you chosen chimbuba and sharkie as your objects of affection? Did you get tattoos of them on your forehead? Are you breaking from my twisted church of cb to start your own radio religion? Judas!

Well Twist I didn't chose them they chose me, It is sorta like you and Dave
Hall, they too have been caught in many lies, they have no one to blame but themselves. I just merely point them out.

George,,,haven't seen Sharkie or chimbuba lie, or you provide proof they lied, such as I did with N3CVJ.......do you have any?

Correct, yes It pointed out his name you are correct no charges against him
, but Twisty said he was Busted, I then asked him why was doug busted
for ?
he then stated: Repeater Jamming, and Interference. So I expect to see somewhere that Doug has indeed been giving a warning letter or a NAL
for the violations that Twisty listed. Otherwise he is caught lieing again.

well the first and most recent lie by your queer friend landshark was him
accusing me of being Smokey, did you ask him to provide proof that I am

Smokey? the next lie is chimbubba stating he is not Icecoldnyc. You want proof of more landshark lies, search google his lies have been reposted
many times over for your viewing pleasure. Old News

>well the first and most recent lie by your queer >friend landshark was

There is a huge difference between setting forth an opinion and lying.
Your communication deficit thing is mind numbing you again. See, when one says 'Oh, You're an idioso..or you;re a lid" or "you're posting as multi-people"..it is one persons belief as to what they "believe"..when one sets forth a direct contradiction from ascertained facts, such as one claiming a cber getting busted IN Philly is the exact same thing as getting busted in SUBURBAN Philly" and such a claim is easily proved,

it
is a malicious lie, especially when it's attempted to be perpetuated over and over. There is a difference you know.

>did you ask him to provide proof that I am >Smokey?

No need. The contingency of cbers is aware who they can trust and believe. So far, I have seen many people tell you that you're not credible or to be believed, and I have seen several agree that Davey jr.
is a hypocrite and liar. The only ones supporting y'alls fantastic bullshit is......each other,,the same who are attacking those who out your lies. You do much better minding your own business, Geo...you muddy yourself up something terrible by jumping to lids defense..you end up the same as them..angry,,foulmouthed, and unable to attack a topic without getting personal. It's a communication deficit thing,,really.

> the next lie is chimbubba stating he is not >Icecoldnyc.

I know for certain you have erred in accusing others of being someone they weren't.

>You want proof of more landshark lies, search >google his lies have

Nah. I haven't seen Shark or Chimbuba attack or retaliate to anyone unprovoked...or lie maliciously. That's behavior beholden to those we expect it from..the angry lids...you can relate, geo.

George, since you like to use the word so much in this thread, please learn to spell lying. There is no "e" and only one "i". Got it?

Who georgie porgie make an error? He could never admit to that possibility. Simply put he has a hard on for me and many others for some reason. He maybe more hung up on ice than me though. What is his agenda? Who knows? A lonely man that needs to go to more of his peephole joints to be less lonely. I have never attacked anyone without being provoked and george is the only one getting some of my anger. He can never prove any of the things he says he just accuses and attacks for his own simple reasons. When you hurt him he starts calling people gay or lately he starts saying negative racial things.
Now how mature is that? Well again I ask what is his real agenda?
Just leave me alone george and go after ice since I believe it is him that you really want.

I was wondering how long it would take a maroon like you to say something

Less time than a moron like you to realize he can't spell.

Who georgie porgie make an error? He could never admit to that possibility. Simply put he has a hard on for me and many others for some reason. He maybe more hung up on ice than me though. What is his agenda? Who knows? A lonely man that needs to go to more of his peephole joints to be less lonely. I have never attacked anyone without being provoked and george is the only one getting some of my anger. He can never prove any of the things he says he just accuses and attacks for his own simple reasons. When you hurt him he starts calling people gay or lately he starts saying negative racial things.

Now how mature is that? Well again I ask what is his real agenda?
Just leave me alone george and go after ice since I believe it is him
that you really want.

We should have the examiners measure the size of prospective HAM's dicks. That would get us back to the basics here that you've been preaching about.

That's right, bro, keep the faith.

OJ didn't do it and I can prove it:

1) He said he didn't do it.

2) He's out looking for the "real" killers.

And that settles that!

I agree. At least 100 wpm for Novice/Tech and something really hard for General and up. Don't laugh, it's been done.

Also, lets have them memorize the Baudot code, demodulate PSK31 by ear (no computers allowed) and launch at least one satellite into orbit.
They should be required to build an oscillator from a crystal set, erect a 200 foot tower all by themselves and change the tubes in a 1500 watt amplifier while it is running at full output.

Hams today are a bunch of weenies.

Bill, W6WRT
who passed the 20 wpm test by about .001 wpm

Brian,
You need to work on your spelling before even THINKING about trying to pass a 5WPM code test... lol!

Dipipanone is in itself a close relative of methadone. Now people put down methadone but apparently when you shoot it, it's rather good. But the special magic ingredient is cyclizine, which is an antihistamine (officially put in the pills to stop nausea). It causes an amazing flash. When the potential for abuse came to light, the tablets were put on a special licence. There are only 3 drugs on the licence: diamorphine, cocaine, dipipanone but it IS still prescribed in the UK. People wishing to simulate the effect would crush methadone tablets with Valoid or Marezine (OTC motion-sickness pills containing cyclizine) and shoot that. People taking oral methadone apparently still get a hit if they shoot just cyclizine on top of it. There is a lot of research on the internet. Apparently, it boosts all opiates. It's also available on the internet without a prescription. In the US, Ts & blues was the same sort of thing. Tripelennamine in conjunction with Talwin. Then they reformulated Talwin with naloxone so you can't shoot it.
Recent reports say that even humble diphenhydramine (Nyquil) will boost the hit if swallowed 45 minutes beforehand. If you could filter it from those big, bulky tablets then I would bet that a shot of this mixed with H would be just great.
Now, the downside. Some people can 'chip' opiate without trouble, but the longer you chip, the more likely you are to become addicted. If you think that people like Dave Gahan, John Lennon, William S. Burroughs, Miles Davis who didn't die from the stuff, all said it was bad news. Burroughs lived a LONG time but was still on methadone until the day he died.
Heroin is like religion, it gets people at their weakest point, when they feel like there is nowhere else to turn OR they have no self respect.
I will give you all the facts, but having tried it & tried DMT, I would say DMT is better, safer & non-addictive.

Take care.

I believe I have a fairly good command of the written English language.
The meaning and usage of his words and your response indicates that, either you didn't understand what he meant, or you were replying in sarcasm. I believed it to be the former.

A coward chooses to do something difficult in order to gain something, rather than take the easier road.

Would that be because you have been unable to master the minimum requirement, after failing "more than 100 code tests"? Perhaps it is simply a case that you are one of those who should be relegated to 6m and above. If this had been 1970, you would not have a ham license of any kind.

Then:
1) wait until the Morse requirement is dropped altogether (don't hold your breath waiting for the FCC to act)
2) or learn to be satisfied with what you have.

Would you get the same effect if you took the tablets orally before hitting up with heroin? As you know, I'm very cautious ;-) and would be concerned about what other stuff was in the OTC tablets if I was going to crush them and include with the H.

> I will give you all the facts, but having tried it & tried DMT, I

For some reason have always feared hallucinogenic stuff - always want to be able to tell what is real from what is not. I've never felt very psychologically secure, and had a very bad trip taking strong skunkweed once, which triggered very bad depression.. I've therefore tended to steer clear of psychotropic drugs.

A positive experience that I've had on H, is that when nodding it does bring your dreams much nearer the surface, without having them take over - it's almost like there is a creative stream of conciousness you can tap into when you want. I'm sure that's not a good reason for taking H, and I'm sure as tolerance builds up it would be more difficult to achieve, but at least it is one of the things I'm able to enjoy right now.

Seems I read in the paper a couple days ago that it cost about $25,000 to join and they donated another $60,000. Anyway, it was EIGHTY-FIVE GRAND!!! I'm not sure the exact way it was allocated. . . but it's probably on the net.

By your definition, a coward chooses to not let the floodgates to HF fone open for those w/o any Morse proficiency. In that case, I wear the name "coward" with pride.

My point was that, I believe that is your sole incentive to abolish the Morse requirement. Further, if that were the case, I believe it would not be sufficient justification to the FCC for abolishing the Morse requirement entirely. They threw you a bone (with the no-code Technician license) and now you want the whole steer.

It's a matter of available spectrum vs signal bandwidth. On a per-band basis, 6m and up are several megahertz wide and can accommodate wider phone signals. This is not the case with HF.

Remember K-Mart and their ownership of some porn producing or selling shop? Currently out of bankruptcy, I think, but a lot weaker!

Remember Winn-Dixie who just got out of bankruptcy? They came out of bankruptcy minus many thousands of employees, about 400 stores plus warehouses and other assets! Oh, I still don't know if they have a policy of calling the law upon seeing a parent correct a child according to the Bible!

Wal-Mart probably thinks they are "too big" to be brought down a notch or two, but notice what the Bible says. Isiah 40:15, "Behold, the nations are as a drop of a bucket, and are counted as the small dust of the balance: behold, he taketh up the isles as a very little thing." KJV Note: The NATIONS are basically nothing to God - much less one business within one of those nations. I suspect "nations" can be taken individually or collectively! :-)

There was a time when Wal-Mart stock was splitting pretty frequently but I can't see it growing very much lately.

One wonders why Diconal still exists at all. I have seen it four times, my mother-in-law, (not really, she died before we got married) my mother and my brother-in-law. They are all dead, 1977, 1987 and 1992 respectively. They all had cancer and the book says dipianone is unsuitable for palliative care. (Shrugs) And him below.

What I can tell you is that sometime between 1977 and 1982 the little pink darlings were coated with some type of plastic film and are near impossible to IV, certainly not safely. I once took a guy to A&E who had injected 50 over about a week. I have never seen phlebitis like it.
He looked as though he had plunged both arms into a deep fat fryer, they practically glowed red. I had to cannulate a foot and every time we hit a bump a shriek followed and I jest not, I can even remember his name from 1982 (It was the day Prince Charles visited Swansea)

So some fell into my grateful little hands and orally they are quite a pleasant way to watch TV.

Thanks for letting me stroll down memory lane a bit but I really seriously wouldn't give them house room anymore, too much risk for too little joy.

OK, finally made it over to Universal and picked up the November issue of PopComm.

Of course Steve's letter was well written. He left out the homosexual inuendo and excrement eating scenarios. He has one side he presents to the world... but then there's the other side.

Anyhow, lots of words, a sense of urgency. With arms waving and flags flying he mentions "jet training routes" "Missions for America"
"ultimate war fighting capabilities." Very important sounding stuff from Major Steven J Robeson, K4YZ/KTN4GN, as usual.

So what was it all about???

Monitoring CAP FOUO communications.

I recall K4YZ/KTN4GN inviting people to monitor him and he would send an SWL confirmation.

Hi! So much for FOUO.

My eyes went all 8-O to have seen MarQueerMyDear write this:

I find all this talk of stalkerazzi and nym-shifting bullshit highly amusing since this dreaded Steveo never bothered to do any of things you allege he has done when he and I had a war of words several months ago.

If what you say is true (I seriously doubt it, though), fine, have your yuks at another's expense and die a miserable, lingering death as karma comes back to bite you in the ass.

If not, then do the world a favor and die /right/ /now/, this instant and may your corpse be consumed by rats and maggots.

So it shall be written, so it shall be done.

again so? you not establish any reason to require morse code above all other skills indeed passing the code does even insure one can use CW morse at any speed on air

but you are back do or be called lazy BS

I saw and NO convicing argument was made one of the problem with your argument is that it claims for Morse encode CW peorpties for Morse Code that are by right also the property of other CW modes such as Hellshrieber but given many thousand indeed 100's of thousands would seem to agree with me that it is NOT fun or not much fun you statement Morse Code is fun fails to serve as reason for testing for it

Not at all. I am willing to learn how to quote correctly. Once I learn how it is done, I will do it just to please you, Markie.

The same cannot be said concerning your stubborn unwillingness to use a spell check program OR learn CW.
You steadfastly refuse to do either. I am not lazy. You, on the other hand, are.

There is no "logic" to your comparison of YOUR laziness to my willingness to learn and adapt. I outshine you in this regard.

Your refusal to use a spell check program is but another exemplification of your unwillingness to adapt and move forward.

Unlike you, Mark, I learned CW because it was part of the procedure to obtain my upgrades. Using a spell check is nothing a third-grader cannot learn in a matter of five minutes.

Round file the excuses, Mark. Your plaintive whining is falling on deaf ears.

BTW...I rather enjoy seeing how you twist matters to suit your outlook on life. You really don't like being told that you are wrong, do you? It clearly upsets you, as evidenced by you resorting to profanity.

,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,

That is SO much hokum, Mark. First, I have no need to prove to YOU that I mastered CW. You are a virtual nobody and I owe you nothing. Zero. Zilch. Nada.
Suffice it to say I will be operating on the HF bands wherever and whenever I wish. Fortunately for the rest of us, you cannot do likewise.

Your third grade playground challenge that I should give my real name is yet another mark of bogus Machismo. Besides, you seem to be convinced that I am Lloyd, so I'll leave you to your reverie.
I would think that you of all people would have by now learned the value of remaining anonymous. Were it not for you so boldly posting your name and callsign as you dump on literally EVERY post, it is likely that you would not have received the alleged box full of kiddie porn that you seem to think was sent you by a certain party in West Virginia. Again, we have only YOUR claim that this happened and, for all we know, this is yet another of your wild fabrications and perhaps even a tawdry attempt on your part to disparage someone with whom you do not get along.

No, Markie, my real name and callsign shall not be forthcoming. Not by your childish challenge, anyway. No, I am not "afraid" to do so, I am simply more experienced and have more common sense than you. I'd rather see you as the recipient of spam and magazine subscriptions and whatever else you allege is being mailed you. You asked for it. Better you than me.

SSB requires exactly the same bandwidth regardless of the radio frequency. My point was that the HF bands have less room for expansion of the fone spectrum to accommodate the increased use. If the entire portion of an HF band were allocated to fone and the Morse requirement was abolished, the crowding would be unbearable because of the all the no-coders. Thankfully, as for myself, I'm ready with a narrow 270Hz IF filter for Morse.

For the reason I explained... the already relaxed requirements. Had it been the 1970s, you would've had to pass a real 5wpm Morse test in order to operate as a Technician class licensee above 30MHz.

> it is MY right to fair and reasonable test for access regardless of

As it is now, it is more than fair. As explained, the Morse speed requirement has been reduced to a paltry 5wpm, and one has to get only 70% correct (instead of 100%).

Alright; for the sake of argument, let's assume Morse is not fun and not enough argument in favor of keeping the Morse requirement. How about some numbers (with sources)...

Source: http://www.qrz.com/i/census.html
Total # of US hams: 675274
Extra: 105552 (15.63%)
Advanced: 79253 (11.74%)
General: 139251 (20.62%)
Tech+: 57986 (8.59%)
Tech: 262422 (38.86%)
Novice: 30810 (4.56%)

Code Total: 412852 (61.14%)
No Code Total: 262422 (38.86%)

There are nearly twice as many people who've passed a Morse test (412852 or 61.14%), compared to those who haven't (262422 or 38.86%).
Nearly a super-majority managed to get to at least 5wpm. One could speculate that there may be only 38.86% interest in dropping the Morse requirement. It may be difficult to know how many non-hams would be for it.

Source: ARRL Poll (http://www.arrl.org/survey.php3?pollnr=307)
This recent online poll indicates a majority of hams are/were against abolishing the Morse requirement.
Fine with me: 2896 (45.1 %)
It is a terrible idea: 3107 (48.4 %)
I don't care either way: 415 (6.5 %)
Total votes: 6418

There were only 6418 responses but, it is the only hard measure in regard to the proposal.

Source: ARRL Poll (http://www.arrl.org/survey.php3?pollnr=342)
This interesting poll shows the breakdown of Morse proficiency:
5 to 10 WPM 16.3% (850)
10 to 20 WPM 27.8% (1450)
20 to 30 WPM 14.4% (749)
30 to 40 WPM 4.4% (229)
40 to 50 WPM 1.3% (68)
Higher than 50 WPM 1.0% (51)
I don't operate CW 34.8% (1816)
Total votes: 5213

Discounting the lowest and the 3 highest ranges, a majority of hams (2199 or 42.9%) are proficient in the 10 to 30wpm range. Assuming the

"I don't operate CW" hams are the only ones in favor of dropping the Morse requirement, they are clearly outnumbered by the hams with a "mid-range" proficiency.

You've stated that there are "100's of thousands would seem to agree with me that it is NOT fun or not much fun". Assuming that refers to the 34.8% figure above, you would be correct (0.348 * 675274 = 234995. It's still a small minority. You need to quote a higher percentage (with verifiable sources), if you're going to make your argument to anyone in power to me -- or anyone.

How do I keep my 22 pound turkey from rolling off my George Foreman grill? I tried taping it down with duct tape, but it melts and sets off the smoke alarm.

Hi Captain, you're responding to the fired Alabama pizza delivery boy Lloyd Davies.(NOVFP) He's been in a mental institution for beating up his own mother after she caught him stealing money from her purse. He has serious mental problems and was also busted for indecent exposure for fucking a pumpkin in public.

Alabama inbred? Perhaps. He even has his very own newsgroup.

alt.cocksucker.lardass.lloyd-davies

Here's a little info on him. He attempts to ruin every group he can, especially the radio hobby groups with his cross posted drivel.

an asertion you make without reference to physics indeed the ARRL and hams were sure that HF could not accomadate the number of hams we have NOW so they convinced the FCC of incentive lecining now we more numbers than ever and yet the bands are still mostly silent based on what I here all the techs could arrive tomarrow without overcrowding thebnads if tranmit in same protions as the current users of those bands

Wrong again, lowlife Steveo. He's no buddy of mine as you say. Just another in a long line who happens to know what a complete piece of shit jackass you are. If Captain Ozone is that naive not to see it, that's his problem.

I see you're still using a keyboard to communicate; they've been around since the mid 1800s. Tell me you're not still using a telephone; that was invented circa 1880. Verbal communication? That's been in use for millions of years. Walking upright? A gazillion years.

It's no accident that the most useful things seem to stick around for quite a long time. For many hams, that includes CW.

Let's have a contest: We'll each build a transmitter from scratch for our favorite mode; let's see who can get it built and on the air faster, and collect more QSOs, within say, a week.

Now, just so this is on-topic for .swap: WTB shipboard 500 kHz xmtr, preferably, a Mackay Marine emergency rig.

No 73 for you,
Jeff KH6O

What you just said made me curious, so I hit up WWW.QRZ.COM for "Newport" and there are NONE in 4-land. There's one in Washington, two in five-land, and a handful of 'em in Canton, Ohio. His first post was on Oct 10th about "faggortry."

Wait a minute.... Didn't Robesin used to live in Canton, Ohio? Maybe Bob Newport is one of his ex-in-laws or something.

After you get comfortable in your self-satisfaction over your decree that there are no Newports in 4-land, consider that Kentucky is in 4-land. There is a rather sizable city across the river from Cincinnati, called Newport, Kentucky. It is the county seat of Campbell County. Is your bulb burning any brighter?

Dave, that is a place name, not a family name. There's a Newport in Rhode Island as well, but light bulb for the geographically challenged Heil.

"Bill Newport" does not appear to exist in 4-Land as the anon poster would like us to think. The beauty of being an anon poster supporting the atrocities of Robesin is that people tend to mistrust your claims.
Until "bill" can show us a correct listing on QRZ, I'll just have to doubt he exists in real life.

Thank you for your sincere concern.

"His claims", Brian; not "your claims". Your name doesn't appear in Indeed.

Notice that "Bill" used an underscore (_) between his first and last name. Also notice that "Bill" then used a period (.) between his full name and his general location, "4-Land."

Thank you for another demonstration of you inability to properly read and use syntax.

They've repackaged it and are selling it as "New and Improved."

All they did was change the timing so that you now have to take the 5WPM exam at 13-15WPM.

why? I am not interested in such a contest.

OTOH I have built a 6m AM unit for myself had loads of fun with it.

I am more interesting in a contest wher e you build the rig and find out something bout the other person(s) frankly that means voice

No Sal, You'd still be a retard. Doing ATV doesn't any require skill, and it doesn't have it own test element either. A CB'er could go ATV, maybe thats why you're good at it.

Come back after you learn CW to 20 wpm, and I'll pat you on the back and

Your CB radio not back from the repair shop so you got to attack real radio operators? I knew you went for those "easy-to-burn-up' Cobra and Galaxy brand appliances.

You need both to be a well balance operator. If you're willing and motivated enough to be able to learn and communicate with CW, you're also more likely to be motivated to advance yourself technically in other areas of radio as well. You won't be one of those unmotivated no-code appliance operators you hear on repeaters who spend their days kerchunking all the machines in the area.

Why do you anti-code test people always spew the same dumb ass arguments all the time? The repeaters went down hill after the code requirement was eliminated for use of those bands. Hardly anything technical at all. Most of the retards up there aren't moving forward tecchnically. What makes you thing the same thing won't happen on HF? It will happen there too. We'll have fewer quality operators.

You say the things you do just like all the other dumb it downers say, You think CW is preventing the growth of amateur radio, and it needs to modernize. The CW requirement isn't preventing the growth of amateur radio, Laziness is.

I know you're right, Requiring good operators will kill the service.

Hams just want to be appliance operators these days and they don't want license exams that will interfere with them getting to those appliances even though it means being less skilled. I don't see anyone modernizing like everyone says is happening. They just get their licenses and grab a microphone. What percentage of hams have a computer connected to a radio? Probably less than 30%. Hams don't want to modernize. Guess we just have live with inferior operators on the bands from here on out. Then again, maybe hams shouldn't be required to be knowledgable or have skills. Requiring skills and knowledge is too old skool. Everything must be outcome based these days, even licensing. It ain't like we have to help out in emergencies or anything. It's Quantity, not quality. We need more hams even if they aren't skilled.

It's got to be incorporated into the exams then, otherwise hams aren't going to learn and do it. If ham radio is to modernize hams must be forced to modernize. CW isn't preventing the modernization of ham radio, Laziness is.

Look at the no-coders on the repeaters. Many of them have been licensed for years and they ain't moderizating. They're no better than they were the day they were first licensed.

The passing score on written exams need to be 85% and double the number of questions on each test element.

I push for quality hams. If you don't like quality there is CB. Let's not turn the ham bands into CB

I most certainly did not start it. I'm the nicest person on usenet.

I'm here to help guide and motive people on how they can make themselves better radio amateurs, unfortunately, some of those I'm trying to help prefer to be stupid and lazy, and they flame people that try to help them and they are down right rude. You can see the no-code license was a bad idea, we need to require all hams pass a code test to bring intelligence and civility back to ham radio and the repeaters. I prefer getting the code requirement back up to somewhere between 13 and 20 wpm for all hams.

If at all possible, don't allow any no-coders into your home. Tell them they might be able able to get a meal at Burger King tomorrow.

Don't bother. If it's a no-codes kid, sluggishness probably runs in the family.

If he were just a Tech, I would say, cut off the thumb and skip the towel, but since he's a tech plus, try the towel thing.

No No No, Proper etiquette for this situation:

The kids get the crayon placemats.

The no-code adults get the paper plates and plastic spoons & forks.

The code tested hams get to eat off the fine china, silverware, and crystal.

Right. Eliminating the code requirement for the Tech license was a bad idea and it let riff-raff on our VHF and UHF bands. They need to require passing a CW test for the technician license again, or make the no-code license one year non-renewable.

Notice that you use hyphens between the parts of your screen name. If you buy such a sandwich at any restaurant, are there any hyphens in the name?

The only reason 'not everyone can' is that these ops refuse to invest the time and effort it takes to learn something new. It takes very little effort to learn a dot from a dash.
Code is indeed fun and very rewarding!

I am sure that you have a legion of supporters in the quest for "quality hams". The problem of their silence probably lies in finding an agreement on the criteria for "quality". miki/k35454.

3220. THE NIGHT BEFORE CHRISTMAS - RRAP

THE NIGHT BEFORE CHRISTMAS on RRAP

T'was the night before Christmas, and at RRAP's House, Lloyd, Markie, Woger Stevio and many more, were all totally soused.
The Wouff-Hong shaped sex toy, hung on the wall with care
For it got much use yesterday, today an even in the hot tub ov'er there!

The paddles and whips were all neat on their pegs, and 12" dildos shaped like metal 6L6's were all stowed neatly away Yea, (name here) in their studded collar and I in my cap
Had at last settled down for a long post gay leather S&M sex nap.

When out by the trashbin there arose such a clatter
I sprang from the bed to see wtf was the matter.
The moon, filtered dim by the sulphurous haze
Partly revealed the scene to my red-eyed drunken gaze,

When what to my nearsighted eyes should appear
But an o'erloaded sleigh and eight wheezing reindeer
With a grizzled old driver, who looked faintly sick Farting and gasping, and yanking the dipole with his stick.

So desperately, swiftly, his coursers they came
As Santa roard loudly "I know what's to blame!
Those damn cookies and milk, left out made me loose!
And now, dammit the QRM, I gotta shit like a goose!"

"Now, Dasher! Now Dancer! Now, Prancer, now Vixen!
If I don't find a crapper, it'll be beyond fixing!
On Comet, On Cupid, On Donder and Blitzen!
I must piss like a racehorse and my asshole is splitting!"

To the top of the porch, to the top of the wall,
I saw the sleigh come as I heard Santa bawl.
I knew we were in for a terrible night
For our toilet was clogged with no plumber in sight!

And up onto roof, the reindeer they flew
And in Santa's bowels, was a right murderous brew!
With a lurch of sick dread, I heard up on the roof
Coax being ripped by the pawing of each tiny hoof.

I stood by the bathroom and turned at the sound Of Santa becoming more urgent, with each bound!
He was covered in sweat from his head to his foot,

"Outta my way, Lad, Cause I gotta POOT !"

"the bathroom's not wor--" I managed to yell, Just ere St. Nicholas unleashed all Hell !
His eyes burned like coals as he plungeded through the door
It slammed in my face as I heard Santa roar.

Then up from the bathroom arose such a stench
I knew in an instant, he'd failed in his clench!
"Oh, FUCK!" he exclaimed as he dropped loads of dookie
Then he puked in the wastebasket and up came the cookies!

The odor was rancid, the noises were worse
As I stood in the hallway and he shit, puked and cursed.
As he filled up the crapper, a sound made me jerk...
Soft wet splatters on shingles as each deer did its work!

But worse was in store, in this feculent game
And I knew what would happen when St. Nick pulled the chain.
Sure enough, the shit happened, from the toilet it poured
And covered the poor suff'ring bastard in sloppy XMAS gore!

He staggered toward me as I held my poor nose,
He lurched past and then up the f-n chimney he rose
Like a shit-spattered comet, or naked ass-raper,
"FUCK you," he snarled, "You were all out of paper!"

I ran to the yard and looked up and then spied,
The sleigh lifting slowly as he puked o'er the side.
But I heard him cry out as he drove out of sight
"I'm sick as a bitch! What a Hell of a night!"

So for all of the kiddies and those of their ilk, Santa's lactose intolerant, so IXNAY the milk!
No more carrots for reindeer who come in a flit
Unless you're prepared to shovel up shit!

You want more, hire a writer, I'm sick of this rap
Yeah, Christmas is coming and RRAP can go and eat crap
As for poor Santa, he's down with gastritis and the flu Merry Christmas you cheap bastards, and ass-phuckyou too. :)

I guess my 2m in the car qualifies as an appliance radio. My HF radios are mostly all old tube type. Real radios have a warm glow. I came upon a bargain that I couldn't pass up on a Yaesu FT-901. I'm still trying to decide if it's too new for me. I still practice with code tapes but I ain't getting much better but, I'm proud of my 5 wpm extra class licence.

Nope.

I want quality radio amateurs too. So do lots of others.

We just don't agree with your proposed methods of getting them.

Your ideas on the subject are either insulting, impractical, or both.

In any event they're ineffective.

Gee! When I look at the photo I read 80 to 15 meter amplifier in the title block on the amplifier for auction # 220051930613.

Do Like I did, Put SC on ignore.

He obviously wants to drive everyone from Ham Radio. He has a Bile taste in his mouth from a bad experiance so he now wishes everyone to have a bad experiance. He will not rest till he drives everyone from Ham Radio. So I ignore him as he no longer provides value for my reading time.

Its the old Crusty Crumudgeons like him that drive the new people away.

Slow Idiot:

1) Get a life!
2) Get a news group! (might I suggest rec.radio.amateur.cw? Of course, you will have to found this new group.)

I am sure there are just thousands waiting in the wings to join a newsgroup devoted to cw!

Hi Slow Code,
I don't normally open your posts (didn't note the sender this time) so I don't know if your the nicest person on usenet or a jerk. I do know that your posts seem to turn into arguments about personalities and disrupt the flow of helpful
info that can pass on rec.radio.amateur.antenna.
I think this newsgroup is dying a slow death and suspect many are leaving because of drivel such as yours. I know I have contemplated dropping rec.radio.amateur.antenna off of my list, there is just to much on the net to put up with much garbage.

>>You can see the no-code license was a bad idea, we need to require all

I have been listening to the hams bands for years and noted plenty of room for intelligence and civility, I don't think no-code has added in more room.
The biggest problem I have noted is intentional interference on polite roundtable conversation.
Hmm! That seems to be what you do, only you do it on multiple frequencies (newsgroups) at the same time.

From my point of view...

I am a new ham (general) that said, I think that code should be dropped for the simple reason that none of the other digital modes are required. (yes code is a digital mode) There is no easy fix that will make everyone happy on this subject but why should someone have to learn a mode that they will never use? Why not add all the modes, rtty,psk etc.?

I did notice one thing that I did not like about the general test. I took the test Aced it but I still did not know anything about proper operating practices. I found that out by listening. I think that the testing and study materal should have a lot more in the way of operating practices.

However, as soon as I pass my extra, I plan on sharping up on my code but I think its fun.

I do know someone that just plain cant do code at all. I do not know if it is the way he hears sounds or what, he just cant get it.

I look at code like learning another language say french or german. Some people that have been in code a long time quit hearing letters, they hear words.

that place is as good as any. order a wilson 5000 mag-mount. you'll love channel 19, lots of dumb assholes talking alot of shit to each other. watch out for the faggots like mork. he trolls the air looking for boys. a couple of the regulars in rec radio cb actually meet their wives on the cb when they worked as lot lizzards at truck stops.

Why a 5000. Why not a 1000? Same antenna, different power rating. If he is barefoot, the 1000 is fine.

well,
the quantities they are talking about on that website are so small as to be relatively harmless. I've seen many such "calibration sources" used in college labs. you'd have to spend close to $100,000 just to get an amount that could be considered hazardous....

so..... blathering about that website doesn't really do a lot of good (other than giving them free advertising).

Hi all,

It's not often that I get pissed-off enough at Cbers in general to go on a mini-rant, but here I go.

I direct your attention to the June 2003 issue of CQ magazine, pg. 62, to be exact. It's an article re. the amateur radio vanity callsign system. "Vanity callsigns," what in hell's bells does that have to do with CB? Well, it's like this. Before there ever was a vanity callsign system, an amateur Extra petitioned the FCC to create a means for amateurs to change their callsigns for a fee. He did this because he wanted his old callsign back. His petition was denied.

He then wrote his Congressmen re. his request. He was answered by one of his Congressmen, who informed them that they were making inquiries. Well, to make a long story short, a letter jointly signed by two Congressmen was sent to the FCC chairman. It stated that they were writing "on behalf of several amateur radio operators" and pointed out that such a system would pay for itself. The kicker is that one of the Congressmen controlled the FCC budget. The result; a short time later, both the House of Representatives and the U.S. Senate approved legislation authorizing the FCC to issue unique amateur radio callsigns. When President Clinton signed the well-publicized Deficit Reduction Plan, not even the FCC noticed the short four-word line insert that read "Amateur vanity callsigns $7."

This is a clear example illustrating that one person can actually make a difference. Although the petitioner was an ARO, the league (ARRL) did not represent him. His petition was summarily denied, yet he still found a way to have the change implemented. Arguably, Cbers outnumber hams by a factor of 5:1, and that's being conservative. I just wanted to illustrate how much political and/or economic muscle the 11-meter crowd truly has...yet is unwilling (or unable) to accomplish anything with all this potential clout.

There will be many that will claim that the unlawful activities of some (many) operators will prevent this from ever happening. Although I neither condone nor encourage "freebanding" and/or illegal amplifiers, I think that's a big crock of hooey! It would take just a few moments of one's time and a postage stamp to fire off a quick letter to one's congressmen. I take it a tad farther by returning a form letter re. RM-9807 to all those who send me campaign flyers/letters at election time, but that's just me. Can anybody imagine an inquiry "on behalf of several citizen band radio operators?" I sure can. Think about it.

Bert, the FCC will not do NOTHING that will expand the scope of the existing mess that is found on 11m.

Quote from FCC's reply:

"4. The Commission sought comment on Dixon's Petition on January 14, 2000. Comments and reply comments were received from CB Radio Service operators and organizations representing them, amateur radio operators and the American Radio Relay League, Inc. (ARRL), and the National Association of Broadcasters (NAB).

<snip>

We note that the Commission stated it had no intention of creating a service paralleling the amateur service when it authorized the Citizens Radio Service, and it did not intend that CB Radio Service stations be used for technical radio experiments or for general contacts of a random nature. In this regard, Dixon and others state that the CB Radio Service already is used for long-distance personal convenience communications and that such use should be permitted. We also note that some individuals used the Citizens Radio Service in this manner before the Commission specifically prohibited CB Radio Service stations from communicating with distant stations. Thus, the concern expressed by the ARRL that this proposal would lessen or eliminate the core distinction between the CB Radio Service and the Amateur Radio Service is a valid concern. The Petition presents no compelling reason to propose a rule change that would undermine the purpose underlying the CB Radio Service rules. Rather, we agree with Dvork that someone wishing to engage in amateur service type communications should seek an amateur radio license and use bands that are expressly allocated for these types of communication. "

The key phase Bert is:

"that someone wishing to engage in amateur service
type communications should seek an amateur radio license and use bands that are expressly allocated
for these types of communication."

With the current 5 wpm CW test requirement, which might disappear after the current WRC meeting concludes, even that requirement may be removed, the Ham license is easy to get. There is NO excuse for somebody NOT to get legitimate and get licensed.

a very interesting point was mentioned and quickly glossed over. 'the commission specifically prohibited cb radio service stations from communicating with distant stations.' this is where the government is full of shit. if propogation enables me to talk to an operator in minnesota and some federal flunky says hey dont do that then guess what...take a flying leap at a rolling doughnut

Will you take the other written tests right away if they remove the CW requirement?

For anyone in the area looking for a free test with the current question pool, FARC, the Frederick Amateur Radio Club, is having a test session at the Father's Day Hamfest at the Frederick County Fairgrounds. That is THIS Sunday. Weather is supposed to be nice for a change. The Fest is 8 AM to 3 PM. More info:

http://www.qsl.net/k3erm/hamfest.htm

Maybe I'll go take the General written portion. If there's time, I might try the Extra test. Won't be able to use 'em, but I'll have them and they're good for 365 days.

Jim you are such a rough tough cream puff I'd like to see you go to the FCC office and tell the guy there you are not going to obey rules and
to take a flying leap, no I think you'd be very quiet and shy LOL.

That's the spirit! I think every major Amateur group, except the one from the Russian Federation, is in favor of dumping the CW requirement. Most people expect that there is a very good chance that the CW requirement will be gone when the current WRC concludes its business, but there is no guarantee.

You sidestepped the question:

Will you take the other written tests right away if they remove the CW requirement?

Will you take them at all?

Sure. Particularly since it would tick off some screw-driver.

What? I can't use a scope probe as a screwdriver??

I've got a guy up here who bought his first CB, a Uniden PC-33 in 1996. Now he's a "big wig". Made it all the way to VE. He had to learn the answers to the technical stuff. I already know that stuff. Have the certificate from a vocational school for electronics. My brother is into electronics, so I was "born with a resistor in my hand".

DAMN!!! It's a brunch, not a cookout. Supposed to be at 11 AM. Frederick is at least an hour and a half drive. It's not a hick town anymore. They got traffic problems...sit and wait. I've been on Patrick Street when there's no activities. Ugggg.

Whatever WE want, George. I used RM-9807 because it's a perfect example. It wasn't asking for the legalization of "freebanding" and/or amps, it merely asked for the decriminalization of a naturally occuring phenomenon. That's really kinda beside the point. The CQ article just really struck home re. how much potential political and economic clout CBers could wield, yet nobody seems willing to pull on the same side of the rope.

Who is "they," George? I'm part of "they" and I want rules? Better yet, I want rules enforced. (Don't let me get on my taxpayer rant.)

I don't believe that. If the appropriate pressure was brought to bear correctly, anything is possible. BTW, I don't really care for the broad generalization. The "existing mess" certainly does not apply to all of 11-meters.

Pretty petty, in my opinion. If allowing folks to legally communicate via a naturally occuring phenomenon within a 440 kHz slice (Channelized, at that.) with a whopping 12 watts P.E.P. is "engaging in amateur service type communications," it really doesn't say a hell of a lot for how the FCC views

the ARS.

I concur with your point re. how easy it is, however, as I explained above...I don't really equate the two based on DX comms. Not to appear abrasive, Leland...but if it's that easy...?

What spirit is that, Leland? Wait long enough and the big bad 5-wpm code test will go away. I'd hardly call that spirit. Someone who decides to "get it done" rather than whine and wait is exhibiting "spirit."

He's a HAM.. In NY the law exempts HAMs from being ticketed & charged for having such equipment. Same laws in Michigan, Indiana, Minnesota, and Florida, all exempt HAMs from being charged for having such equipment in their vehicles.

Therefore, his scanner wasn't illegal.

But thanks for the comments.

I still stand by my opinion that ignorance of the law is no excuse, unless you're a cop....

P.S. I have used a screwdriver as a scope probe, in a pinch, before.

Morkie claims he was sent kiddie pron from West Virginia, said so twice.
Mork says his arch enemy sent it.

Mork is a liar. He wants others to think this happened but he lies.

Since his buddy lives two miles from the Ohio border it stands to reason that his Buddy would have stepped across the river to send any pron to obfuscate the return address.

Bottom line is that Mark lied and continues to lie. Mork didn't get any kiddie pron from Woger or anybody else. Mork MOrgan is a liar.

Mork cant prove it. says the postal cops have it. Easy out, Mork.

The only energy producing wind at your QTH is that which leaks from around the seams of your Dickies overalls from too much beeer and too many potato chips.

Unless you have wind generators on at least 75' towers, you aren't producing enough electricity for a pair of FRS HT's.

3302. Introduction to Mark Morgan, KB9RQZ, Redux

For those of you just getting to know "Mark Morgan, KB9RQZ" via his spamming and cross-posting of RRAP and other "rec.radio" groups, a little intro is due.

Just look for all of the "crapathon", "kookathon", and 'stil a crim" posts. It's hard to miss his functionally illiterate postings.

Mark started in here about 8 years ago with his functionally illiterate diatribes, mostly trying to get support for his "waivers" for Morse Code due to alleged neurological deficits, among which he alledges being "dyslexic".

The problem is Morkie tried to get an allergist to write his "waiver" for him. After having claimed an IQ of over 240, one has to wonder on what two fingers he added that up on. It was suggested he see a neurologist, but like every attempt to help him, he told those who suggested it to get ####ed.

UPDATE: Morkie has since claimed to having not one, not two, but THREE college degreesin, inclusing a Masters in geological sciences.

Amazing that he can't employ a spellchecker, eh...?!?!

On finding out that I was an enlisted retiree from the USMC, Morkie started in on tales of how >>>HE<<< was not only an officer, but a COLONEL in the US Army "chemical corps", and that he was DRAFTED ta-boot!...As if that meant a rat's pack of snot in this forum!

Of course Morkie didn't count on anyone actually being able to do math better than he...You see, based upon his birthday (which was once in QRZ), Morkie would have only been SEVEN years old when the drafted ENDED in the United States...

Anyone seeing a pattern here?

When he was busted with this fact, he then relented and "admitted" that he was "only" a lieutenant, but that his unit CO wouldn't let him resign even though he's an admitted sexual deviate. Of course he's since changed even THAT story, and he now tells a tale of how he was an enlisted clerk in the Army, discharged for emotional problems.

Yeah...Right. A "clerk" who can't even SPELL "clerk", however the "discharge" for emotional problems is completely understandable, inasmuch as he's demonstrated widely vacillitating mood swings in this forum.

Over the past several years, Morkie has alternatively denied being a mental health patient, then admitted that he's being treated for "anger issues". He's also lied about being in trouble with the law...You see, Markie likes to "care" for his elderly father by taking advantage of him, then skirting the law. It's been a close shave.

Now Morkie's moved from his previous QTH in south-central Illinois to the Michigan Upper Penninsula in order to (A) avoid the aforementioned abuse issues, and to (B) take advantage of more lenient welfare laws that allow him to pork out at home while allowing you and I to "earn" his income for him.

UPDATED ITEM: The Attorney General of the State of Michigan has announced an investigation into certain "oversights" vis-a-vis failures of the child protective services in that state...Due, perhaps, to complaints about a certain resident of Chassell, MI...?!?! Perhaps.

Among his many NG credits are his claims of being stalked, his admission (and only redeeming attribute) that he not only lies, but does so without moral reservation, and that he believes that children should be TAUGHT to lie.

Morkie now "claims" to be married, but can't seem to produce any evidence of it, other than to point to the recent licensure of a female-sounding named person who shares his POB in Chassell, Michigan.

Oh yeah...His "wife"...Allegedly a law clerk or paralegal of some sort, they were allegedly married in Israel. No doubt a green card scam if they are indeed "married". Obviously "she" doesn't care enough about him to take his name, even to have it hyphenated with "her" maiden name.

In retrospect, "she" probably demonstrates a lot more smarts than Morkie is capable of ginning up..."She" get's the insurance if he croaks, yet minimizes "her" name-affiliation with one of the most humiliating, decitful, and perverted on-line personnas in current USENET history.

Recent fantasy indulgences in this forum by Morkie include his alleged "moonbunce" efforts, tales of land ownership, and pending fatherhood despite being "married" to another man.

So ...for those of you just tuning in, sit back and enjoy the flailings of Mark C. "I Am A Drafted Gay Pagen Chemical Corps Officer" Morgan.

He never disappoints!

Ditto here.

And I also support the closing of the question pools thereby mandating that applicants will actually have to learn something about radio theory...Not just how to memorize the question pools.

Since it's apparent that Morkie and his ilk will eventually get a REAL welfare Extra, the least we can do is make sure they know something about the radio.

Thanks, Bill!

SC, There was an article about CAP in Popular Communications that addressed the recent change of federal policy on FOUO, or "For Offical Use Only" release of information on certain aspects of radio communication.

Part of that change has been for CAP to withdrawn any and all discussion of it's operating frequencies from cap.gov sites that aren't password protected for CAP members only. The author called into question the validity of that practice.

I made a point of suggesting that we as radio hobbyists need to re-think our liberal publishing of what we hear, even when we are only discussing the user, mode and frequency, not the actual content of the transmission.

And Bill...Morkie doesn't like me because at each and every turn of his attempts to lie, deceive and mislead, I've "busted" him over and over for those acts. Morkie doesn't like having his nose rubbed in his online misdeeds, yet continues to do it.

Thanks again for the kind comments. It wasn't, by the way, the first time in recent history that I've been "published" (not in the professional sense, obviously) in Amateur media. I've had several "hits" in CQ magazine since November of last year, and had an item I originally published in this forum picked up by "Worldradio" as a guest op-ed item a few years ago.

Uh huh.

And nowhere in my QRZ bio did I mention operating frequencies, net times, operational objectives, etc.

FOUO maintained...Brain made a fool of...Again...

Guess you missed the part of my letter where I said I suggest that it's still an important right for American citizens to be able to monitor the activites of thier government...Heaven forbid that you'd acknowledge that.

You and Morkie can go back to back-slapping each other at this point, Brain...You deserve each other. (and you deserve the reputation of being his "buddie")

Funny, Morkie, how in the the first post you accuse me of "self serveing fluff" but then make some flack about my having not made a point of rubbing my letter in the NG's nose. Doesn't sound very "self serveing" to me.

But of course you're not known for consistency where common sense is needed.

As for not running in here and announcing the letter, it served a point.

NEITHER YOU, BRAIN, TOIDDIE or any other of your ilk read it...Which tells me that all of your pontification about being so involved in the "radio hobby outside of Amateur Radio" is yet ANOTHER LIE that's now been proven with this thread.

HORSESHIT!

Swallow that tiny amount and see what happens!

Calibration sources are indeed tiny but it takes on friggin molecule's worth to start the "cancer train" dipshit!

(I used to work at Oak Ridge TN and Los Alamos for 40 years....7 cancers and

To the contrary, quite acceptable when dealing with a lame low quality troll like yourself. What indicates a severe and total besting is when you are forced to "snip" my posted replies to evade that besting. This you have done... thus you are bested my bitch.

LOL... you couldn't make chief seat sniffer in a solely owned one man Spot-A-Pot with your droolish parroting of my posts as I disembowel you.

Besides your lack of originality for the purpose of entertainment value you continue to grasp at straws attempting to irk me while I calmly and methodically have you jumping through hoops most recognizable even to the lamest of trolls.

You would give this ng a black eye if anyone took you seriously and believed you to be a fan wanting to talk football or just sensibly about off the wall shit instead of arguing about anything... repetitively. I have demonstrated the former in every ng I have posted to for years. In a single year's time you have proven quite the opposite.

As you search for air and your testicles at this point realize that I won't allow my selfish assaults on your empty coconut to go on much further at the expense of this ng. Obviously one of the biggest differences between us.

So take your best and final parting shot at my superiority regarless of how lame your attempt will be. I promise I will not respond back to disrupt your delusional euphoric dementia.

I won't need to because as the MC Hammer song goes you..."can't touch this!"

My parting song for you obviously has to be ..."dude looks like a lady!"

My last experience with dual quads was horrendous. I had an Olds 442
and put on an Offenhauser tunnel ram and dual Holley's. I linked them together with an Enderle linkage system. It was impossible to keep those two carbs in synch with each other. I think on this one I will go with a tunnel again, but with one big honkin Holley on it.

My 2003 Z06 will turn low 11's and high 10's - fogging 150 HP (have not fogged 250 yet on the track) - I am never scared driving it. Though when you get up over 180 MPH on public roads your heart starts to race quite a bit.

I thought that you were going to put a real carburetor on it:-).

Impressive. Wouldn't a Hemi go nice right now. With a little more time they could have dialed it in and gotten their 600 hp. That's not too shabby, a dependable crate motor, runs on pump, throw a cam and kit at it, add a decent manifold and you have a very streetable 600+ hp motor. Bolt on a set of tricked out heads and watch out. Plus they sound and look so sweet:-).

The '29 coupe is probably a tad more squirrely than your 'Vette.

I went with a new Demon 850 double on the Belvedere this

They come in many flavors.

When I saw Summit come up I chuckled. Good place to buy stuff. I'm going to assume that you got it running well on your car. I ran into a guy with a '34 Ford Vicky with a small block at a show a few years ago and got talking to him about his new Demon. He said that he was having a problem getting it dialed in.
I didn't know the guy so for all I know he could have been a total klutz. Well I ran into him at another about a year later and he was running an Edelbrock and said that the Demon never worked out for him. He didn't badmouth it, just said that he could never get it set to his liking. I was looking for a carb at the time to replace my aging Q-Jet. I opted for a Edelbrock Performer with electric choke (the Q-Jet didn't have a choke hooked up). I drive this thing year around and having a choke in freezing weather is nice. Anyway, the Edelbrock seems to be doing a good job for me, was easy to dial in (which can be a challenge at this elevation of a tad below 6000 feet). I had considered a Holley but I thought back about all the Holleys that I have worked on over the years and decided that I didn't need the torment:-).

That's identical to my friend Andy's, only his was bright red.

Sap,

Pretty sure that both hood styles were available in both '71 and '72. The air induction like you see on his was first used on the '70 RR and operated by vacuum.

Here you can see a '71 with the hood style yours has.
http://autohobbypage.com/cgi-bin/_mopar.pl?/show/00/mpr/mpr130.jpg

Here's a '70 showing the underside of the air induction.
http://autohobbypage.com/cgi-bin/03/_mopar.pl?/show/03/all/all509.jpg and here's one with the hood down and the "scoop" open http://autohobbypage.com/cgi-bin/03/_mopar.pl?/show/03/sbd/sbd037.jpg

Kind of like in '71-'74, there were at least two different hood styles for the Charger. One had the power bulge in it(not sure if it was available in the '74 or not) and the other was just a plain hood.

Not positive, but you might have been able to get the "plain" Satellite hood
on the RR in '71-'72 also.

Nice ride you have there. :)

The Air Grabber scoop was manually operated via a switch located on the dash. If you shut off the engine with it open, vacuum would automatically close it to keep out rain, debris and such.

Pretty much the same as the headlights on the 66-67(and maybe later?) Chargers then, right? At least as long as you didn't have a vacuum leak. ;)

Glad to assist in adding to your inner warmth. I can just picture you and taffie rolling around naked on the floor together. You are such a cute couple. Both of you boys buttered up with olive oil, playing "hide the snake". Now roll over again and take it like a man fritz. Maybe taffie will then volunteer himself into your sweet slot.

Don't pick on Fitzy too much. He is obviously pretty young. The term "LOL" and the use of smiley faces is primarily used by pre-pubescent teenagers.

Look guys, I know that this stuff is probably of the utmost importance to you people, but can you please stop cross-posting it to ADH? It really doesn't belong here.

Now carry on with the psychotic ravings, but please, don't do it here.

Thank you and have a good day.

No dumbfuck, it stands for Millitary Affilliate Radio Service
(M.A.R.S.) it's millitary communications done on HF and VHF.

You weren't the person to whom I was directing the comments, fatboy, now was I, fatboy...?!?!

And it's going to be a far longer drive to Universal than it is for Brain.

That being his anti-Amateur Radio personna....

His "Do Unto Others Then Claim You Don't Do It" side....

He's claimed to have a better perspective on it than most other people, Morkie.

In regards to you, he'd be correct...Howver to anyone with an IQ over 7 he'd be wrong.

> you exagrate the claims of your foes it makes it all to easy to

I don't "exagrate" anything, fatboy.

Brain's claims about ARES, MARS, and other Amateur Radio specific or supported programs are thoroughly archived.

So Brain has attempted to suggest that I have violated some

No "maybe not" to it.

WHERE did I mention nets, times, frequencies, traffic content, etc?

What's to tell?

Sure you do.

You're peas in a pod.

> indeed as I am BB would agree it is likely if we discussed the BSA we

I am sure you'd love to discuss BSA. However BSA has had the extremely good character and strength to thumb their collective noses at political correctness and stand by their own traditions and beliefs in morality and decency.

You, on the otherhand, are an admitted sexual predator and deviate, and you'd be no more welcome at a BSA function that a lit match would be welcome in a weapons magazine on a ship.

> if you told the truth about much of anything

It's all around you. You refuse to accept it.

> BTW the crosspost is quite poper since the subject your willing to

Where did I say I would disclose FOUO comms, Morkie?

I said I'd QSL anyone who heard me. I said nothing about publishing frequencies, nets, times, traffic, etc.

Actual military units QSL all the time. And they do so without violating FOUO.

Once again, we have you acting like an idiot in a public forum contrary to the facts at hand.

Why do you keep doing that?

Nope.

YOU claimed you have three college degrees.

YOU refuse to fix your grammar and English composition, either by practice with a tutor or emplyment of a spellchecking program...You LOOK like a third grader with a bad attitude.

My point is that you made a stupid comment.

Your reply verifies it.

HIRE AN ENGLISH TUTOR, FATBOY...Then learn how to complete your sentences.

My point is that you're an idiot.

SlowCode was right about your predisposition to "responding" to posts that you are obviously not qualified to repsond to.......

I am sure you thought you were making some sort of comical response, Morkie, but since you refuse to exercise good English grammar, the funny part wa lost.

Ahhhhhhhhhhhh...I see.....

You initiate yet another cross-post to the Civil Air Patrol NG, alledging that I am violating some regulation, yet when demanded to cite that violation, you snip it from the post and "flsuh" the rest...

In other words, my subject line is 100% on mark...Or in this case, on MORK....

the correct setup would be Black to Green, Yellow to Red. However if all you are doing is plugging in a phone and not running a DSL or anything like that it doesn't matter..

But if we push for good tests, new hams will have a leg up and we won't have to elmer them as much and if we push for really really really good tests, they can elmer us after they get licensed.

Everytime you people follow-up to Markie, he gets another post he can use to crap on the group again. If you ignore his posts we can reduce the number of his turds in the group by half because there will be fewer posts for him to crap on. So please people, work with me on this and we'll be able to cut the CRAP in RRAP.

Thanks, 73, Good luck on the code test.

The History Of The Middle Finger

Well, now......here's something I never knew before, and now that I know it, I feel compelled to send it on to my more intelligent friends in the hope that they, too, will feel edified. Isn't history more fun when you know something about it?

Before the Battle of Agincourt in 1415, the French, anticipating victory over the English, proposed to cut off the middle finger of all captured English soldiers. Without the middle finger it would be impossible to draw the renowned English longbow and therefore they would be incapable of fighting in the future. This famous English longbow was made of the native English Yew tree, and the act of drawing the longbow was known as "plucking the yew" (or "pluck yew").

Much to the bewilderment of the French, the English won a major upset and began mocking the French by waving their middle fingers at the defeated French, saying, See, we can still pluck yew!

Since 'pluck yew' is rather difficult to say, the difficult consonant cluster at the beginning has gradually changed to a labiodentals fricative F', and thus the words often used in conjunction with the one-finger-salute!

It is also because of the pheasant feathers on the arrows used with the longbow that the symbolic gesture is known as "giving the bird."

IT IS STILL AN APPROPRIATE SALUTE TO THE FRENCH TODAY!
And yew thought yew knew every plucking thing!

It's clear this dude is about 15 years old. Why would someone go thru so much trouple posting as someone else, threatening people, etc, all because someone offered $20 for a "not much in demand radio".

Doon't even bother wasting your time.

No, actually I havent heard anything. If they do drop it perhaps I will have to pay for service like some of the anonymous users. But actually 39.95 a month is enough for me.

Not at all twitsedhed, the person being called has a right to know who is calling them, otherwise they wouldn't have caller ID

Pink muffin you? Now I know where your mind is. If she called, she would have gotten me. Cause that is my number. Not my Home, but my number.
SO...
The PU$$Y didn't even try. What a wimp. I aint afraid to talk to know one.

Nope no caller ID. SO, You all get off the hook.

If you would only research. I guess you all aren't as smart as I thought you were. Wait a minute, Did I say that? What was I thinking? I know you all are not that smart. This NG proves it.

Slow Idiot:

You must be the most vile, degraded, despicable, disgusting pos (pos = piece of chit) which ever fooled their vec and obtained a license. You are disgusting beyond description. I pity your neighbors, I believe they have ALL had problems with you, I believe the police, sheriff and county officials in your county all know you. I bet your children despise you, if your wife is still with you--she is a saint! You are not just a lightweight idiot, you are a complete idiot. You do the name IDIOT! much service, you never cease to be complete and an ideal example of an IDIOT. I bet some here do not realize how much you tax the services of city, county and state with your ridiculous and childish behaviors, wants, fits, temper tantrums, generally foolish behavior, etc.

You would truly be a very funny joke, if you were not such an example of human depravity. You remind me of the disgust I feel when I see child molesters and people masturbating in public, drunks, hopeless alcoholics and drug addicts, disease infested whores, etc.

I would truly like to leave you with a picture of how disgusting, reviling, sick and putrid an individual I view you as, but mere words could never paint a proper and complete example. You are beyond words, you are beyond my most vilest visions of disgust, you are a pinnacle of chit!

Now, all that said, I think you are pulling our legs, no one could possibly be so disgusting and stupid--you are just pretending! <grin>

Slow Idiot:

I am going to do you a BIG favor. You didn't know I was psychic, did you? Well, I am, let me give you a reading...

You are the kind of guy who impresses young children, old women, and mentally and technically challenged individuals. You realize that you have that special autistic ability of being able to rap out, and quite profusely--probably, those taps in code. You were quick to realize that individuals with low self esteem, persons of low self-worth and individuals seeming to lack any skills what-so-ever were VERY impressed by such an ability--of course these individuals also failed to realize just how stupid it was to "hero worship" such a trivial ability.

However, for one such as you, un-remarkable in all other ways type of guy, no great IQ, no other real skills or abilities, a general inability to get along in the general society, etc... for you, this was a way of "feeling special." But, it came at a price, it blinded you to how simple others with real abilities, high IQ's, great skills, good social abilities, etc. viewed you. You simply shut your ears, your eyes and your mind to reality; you finally reached a point where you were unable to care, to see... You came to live in your "special world" where you are quite special, talented, skilled, etc. You live there now, you think you enlighten us with your wasted "text verbiage" here, you draw upon others good will and tolerance, you keep thinking you have a great message to impart to us. That soon a revelation will strike us and we will all recognize you for the great man you think you are...

This story goes on and on, indeed, it appears as if it is one of those special, un-ending story with you painted as lead hero, painted as such by you, yourself--of course... well, even you can see where I am going with all of this. And, you know it is true. You know we will be watching your behavior in sheer unbelief and amazement, you realize you really do look quite stupid. You realize you have painted yourself into a corner which you cannot escape. And, it dawns upon you, you have nothing to lose, all credibility is lost--you may as well continue on your present course--there is nothing to be lost--it has already been gone for quite a time... still, your only two choices is facing your peers disgust, or quitting, and I am betting you just can't quit. I have never seen an individual like you who was able...

P.S. I am really not psychic--but you already knew that... It is just that such small intellect as you display is simple to define... but you knew that--already. You are simply trapped by the particular mental disorder which plagues you, your world is small and therefore you expect it to be so for all others. You are now but an actor on a stage--your part has already been written, you now only perform your part... a limited performance, a small performance, a vile performance, but still--it is yours, and it tells a much larger picture about you--how much better it would be if performed for people who actually cared...

It's ironic how he thumps his chest, claiming to be the bearer of all that is good and true in the ARS yet he directly and blatantly violates the very standards he champions. For example, the very fact that he uses completely off-topic newsgroups as his soap box is exactly the same as operating a radio on completely un-authorized frequencies and power levels. His mental disorder prevents him from seeing this.

It's quite sad, really. We should pity him.

What's a "reimindier", Morkie?

You were never in the Army.

Your mythical unit never existed. That you crafted together a unit that SOUNDS ALIKE doesn't make it true.

No matter how many times you re-generate these posts, you are still not a Veteran and never will be.

Oh...You mean by "telling the truth"...Well, for once you got something right.

Because you're not doing it.

Nope.

But I AM STILL WAITING for you to tell me where this alleged violation of rules is that I have commited.

Because Morkie, I have the Air Force FOUO policy sitting in fornt of me, as I do CAP's policy letter and the NTIA reg manual.

certianly I do

it is just that simple

you need to believe otherwise but the very powerfull and the very stupid have one thing in comon they don't alter the views to fit the facts they try to alter the facts to fit theire views unforuntately for me I am in your twisted mind am a fact in need of

There's nothing to alter, Morkie.

You're not a Vet.

There's nothing about you "factual" other than your pattern of lying and deceit.

The "facts" are that you're a lying, deceitful putz.

That you try to make up a fake military career makes it even worse.

So here we ahve your admission of MORE lies, Morkie.

HERE'S THE RUB, FATBOY!

I never had to "obtain" anything.

You have provided EVERYTHING I NEEDED right here to prove you a liar, and now you've gone and done it AGAIN!

Meaning I don't doubt that Goodwill or whatever social services agency that's helping you didn't make sure that you've got some sort of "job" that keeps you fed and out of the cold.

Your allegations of making over $250K a year are a fabrication.

It's VERY factual, and the tenor of your posts proves it.

> you have caught me at nothing

Sure I have.

This very day I called you about your lies about military service, especially about being a "colonel" in the "chemical corps" and YOU said it WAS true.

Again, you lost track of your lies and they bit you.

It doesn't take a damn bit of knowlege of electronics, radio, propagation or regulations to learn cw.
So how is cw gonna prevent the dumbing down of ham radio.
Why are you not stressing a need for better testing for technical competentcy to prevent the dumbing down?
There are a lot of engineers, technicians and hobbyists who allready know electronics who might be interested amateur radio, but don't have time or interest to fool around learning code. Once licenced some, maybe many, of these people would develope an interest in cw.

There's nothing to meet, Morkie.

You were never a colonel in the Army...Nor a private, sergeant, or any other grade.

You are not a college graduate.

You are not a geologist.

You are not married.

You are not truthful.

You ARE under investigation for your abuse of your father and inappropraite contact with underage sexual partners.

You don't.

I don't need to. There are other public sources with proof of my service without copying my separation papers.

YOU don't have any such resource...Even with all the links you've snipped about the unit you were allegedly in, NOT A SINGLE ONE made mention of you.

Sure you have...You e-mailed several Civil Air Patrol people vis-a-vis this forum.

THAT is a "flase report"

After they read the links to this forum that I provided they simply put Mark Morgan in his place...the trash can.

I "can't accept you" because you're a documented liar.

THIS VERY DAY you've been caught lying again...

You even went as far as to reverse your previous story about being a colonel in the "chemical corps"...What an I D I O T.....

Nothing's the matter with me, Morkie.

But I wonder what goes on in YOUR mind when you post one lie after another, even within the span of a few short posts, get CAUGHT at it, then ask what's wrong with OTHER people.

You're ill, fatboy.

Nope.

Not a one...Even YOU posted links to various Army units, and not a one mention you.

On the otherhand you can ask "Navy Times" for access to their archives and find me in there on several occassions...especially under

"Regular USMC Promotions"

Nope. My mistake was accepting the letter without independently verifying it.

But the TRUTH remains that your "47th CSB (Provisional) never existed, and you were never in the Army...Ours or anyone else's.

You've offered me nothing except your 'word', which you have this proof.

Be a "man", Morkie...Take the picture...Remember the USA Today to

Nope.

According to the folks in Illiopolis you were under investigation before I ever entered the picture.

You LIE about being threatened, and to this day, I can't figure out why other than to try and create sympathy for yourself.

But as pathetic as you are, that wasn't necessary.

I know you're in a state of confusion, Morkie.

No, you're not.

There was no "bait", Morkie...I dismissed your "colonel" claims hours ago, even telling you you couldn't get a job impersonating Colonel Sanders...Then YOU tried to slip this one in.

We'll be patiently awaiting your scanned in Certificate of Appointment as that "Kentucy Colonel", Morkie....

Poor sport about what?

Being lied to?

Congress and spouses don't like being lied to, Morkie...Why did you think I'd be any different?

So Morkie...Send that ticket in yet?

You're stioll showing up in the FCC database...QRZ, too...Along with that humiliating "bio" of yours...

Wasssamatta...Too humiliated to have your "wife" take a look and clean up some of your screwed up writing? Bet "she" doesn't know what an illiterate putz you really are.

Or maybe "she" is even worse than you?

Gee, Morkie...Five of your own posts in a row, and nothing of worth said in any one of them.

Guess your "wife" must be at work these days, eh? At least when he bends over there he's not likely to be violated like he would with you there.

I personally know of very good 2 way radio techs - one who won't go for a ham license because of the code - the other has acquired his NO-Code Tech, but won't go any higher because he "doesn't" want to fool with the code. So, Code "may" be keeping out some otherwise good operators. CW alone - isn't "dumbing" down - ham. It's the "STUPID MANUALS". With them, you don't "need" electronics, just the ability to learn a few "one liner" answers. Almost amounts to a mouse in a maze smelling cheese to direct it. PUT SOME TEETH back into the "THEORY". Some of the bozos I've met - can't tell the difference from a fuse and a resistor. That is pathetic.

If you "choose" "just" to BS - CB is the way - and it too "can" be a good hobby, if you don't have to contend with a lot of the same CRAP - of everyone splattering, constantly saying Audio, keying up just to piss people off, and so on. IF you choose to "LEARN" - Ham "can" be the way. But then again, even at this point, I know some CBers who know more than many No Coders - or even Extras for that matter. There "are" some "serious" CBers out there who "get into" their equipment - knowledge wise. They have a "desire" to learn. There again, they won't go ham BECAUSE of the code. It is a two sided coin - but regardless - both CB AND HAM - have a lot of "nice" folks and a lot of idiots - who - "could" be better operators if they tried. These Ham tests - do "not" test the "psychological" make up of people.

Code is ok - but it's not the salvation of the world - and certainly not the Ham hobby.

Still again - SC has "YET" to show proof of a license to back up his claims. People need to "ignore" him and move on.

Are you a "Pro-Code" person? If so, then how is it that you can be so with such poor spelling skills?

If you are an example of what a "Pro-Code" person is, then I don't think that HAM can really be "dumbed" down any further.

People have only so much time and energy to spend on ham radio or anything else. Spending hours on CW is truly dumb when they could be spent on aspects of the hobby that are really important.

Ron, Morkie is the No-Code camp's worst enemy...He's one of "them".

Morkie (Mark Morgan, KB9RQZ) claims to have three college degrees, is allegedly now a geologist, and claims to have been "colonel" in the US Army Chemical Corps. He's the only multi-degreed professional that seems to be so incompetent as to be unable to employ spellchecking software, however.

The funny thing about his latter claim was that he (a) alleged to have been "drafted", (b) would have only bee SEVEN years old as the last conscriptee was being mustered out in the 70's, and (c) brandishes a sexual perversity that would get ANY officer's security clearance pulled, let alone play with NBC / CBR items.

He also claims to be a Jewish Pagan, whatever those are supposed to be, and has apparently "married" a male person while in Israel, which I find hard to believe...Not that he'd "marry" a man, but that the government of Israel would allow such things to occur in the Holy Land.

He's trashed every newsgroup he's come into contact with and has actually searched out newsgroups in order to cross post items in a lame attempt to intimidate those who he'd like to see go away since they make it a habit of busting him for his lying and tales.

So...Basically you're right when you say it can't get much "dumber" than what it is...He passed the writtens...perhaps. The jury's out on whether or not he was able to find a corruptable VE team to pass him after he passed them an undetermined quantity of Jacksons or Franklins.....

In any case...caveat emptor when it comes to dealing with him. I do it because I'm already in a high stress job and he's cheap entertainment.

I count about 100 posts In RRAP by Robeson in that time

all focused on defending his lies

He insists that the Army lied to him and flasely stated that one of it brigades never existed the 214th FA that the army lied to him and sated the 47th Feild hosiptal in it various names over the years never existed that these units do not exist disppite thousands of hits when you google them defending the lie he would even KNOW wether I served in the US Army. I did not right now I am not happy about but EARNED my right to bitch about the Army he insists on mantina his lie that my Father is a rapist,attacking in the bargain A Keroean war vet he insists dsipte being offered proof otherwsie, that my wife is male not female and his year of lies about are somehow my fault

my only offensanse against Robeson has been to defend myself form years of abuse and harrassment

Robeson will give up this level of shit he can't mainatin it he is clearly afaid that someone at CAP will see what abusive and unfit officer he is which is why this stuff gets posted there too

CAP robseon is making YOIU look bad

If you are NOT SC, you are his brother... indeed the glitch/mis-configuration/error or settings which have been introduced into your news reader/poster is a dead giveaway!

Perhaps your "high stress" job leads you to commit such mistakes? You really should look into getting some help with that "little problem" of yours, they have done wonders with new medications, yanno? <grin> it isn't his job it is the stress he feels whan anybody step out of the box at all or opposes him

Tood dress his fire for the harmless if IMO silly interest Todd in anime

Ander in his stubbron insistance on hold the ARSaccoutable for the large amount of specturm we do hold (and we deserve to held to it)

BB for just daring to disagree on what the ARS and how will it does it with of course it started out as a simple disagree then he dicovered I am Bisexaul tried to balck mail me about and I simply came out of the ham shack closet. I made a fool years over his death threats and after 8 years he is still pissed about it

SC is Robeson borther of coconspirtor or siamaesetwin i can't realy

He never did, the problem I have with NIM Busters is that the Admin does not want to take the responsibility and maintain control over his board. I don't post on that board, nor do I want to associate myself with those indivivualsor that stupid ass board. I am in the process of shutting them down for posting my picture on that board, a picture that was copyrighted. For allowing indivivuals to make death threats against my life. What really sick is that these indivivuals and the ISP that the site is on, believe that that type of behavior is protected by the First Amendment, when in fact is is not. You can not copy peoples pictures without the persons permission, Nor can you legally make threats on people lives over interstate telephone lines.

Such hero worship is over a half century LATE. But, some have had their thinking conditioned by continuous propaganda from a certain membership organization for just as long. Their brains have been thoroughly washed and they found themselves hung out to dry in the yard of ignorance and apathy of a time gone by.

He can't quit now. Like Robeson, he's already dug his way too deep into his own egotistical underworld, has NOTHING to support his conception beyond the Archaid Radiotelegraphy Society (ARS) propaganda that is over a half century out of date.

>Good luck...

I cannot agree on that...for, like all egotistical bigots, he insists that he is the "model" for all to emulate. Ignorance of the rest of the radio world is no excuse. Rather, I wish him all the bad luck possible. :-(

Absolutely NO psychic abilities needed to see his "act" and judge this meanderthal of morse. If he were really on stage he would be booed off without any audience hesitation. Exit stage left...hastily.

The odd part of these forums is that they do NOT exit. These sociopathic bigots enjoy their own virtual worlds too well to leave. Separated by time, distance, and anonymity possible in here, they fear nothing and operate with impunity. They love only themselves and their words, the "getting even" with all others who have given them frustrations elsewhere. They need the tarnkappen of their own-tailored invisible clothes of grandeur. If there be pity for them it would be for their own naked ignorance.

"QUITEFINE" was Miccolis' KNOWN foray into anonymity.

I doubt that, Brian. Miccolis lacks chutzpah and cojones to act in such a manner as Blowcode. I saw Miccolis' "rebuke" of Blowcode and it was little more than a faggoty slap on his/her wrist. A single rebuke after dozens of arrogant sociopathic bigoted postings by Blowcode.

Miccolis' manner is the prissy sissy type of "superiority" like that of the stereotypical humorless Mother Superior.

Miccolis will never ever admit to being "QUITEFINE" in here although it was patently obvious it was him. :-)

So did I. Hans didn't, but then it was a bad-hair-day for Hans when you did it? :-)

We will never know as in a court of law. :-) But, Miccolis is mired with AOL and apparently cannot seek another ISP. It is an easy task to see the Header information and get the AOL from his postings.

Poor Miccolis seems to take every no-code-test advocate to task, assigning all sorts of ethical and moral impropriety to their person. Somehow that was left out of Moses' tablets but Miccolis is apparently seeking redress of that omission! :-)

I've been posting here for about ten years, always seeking the end of the morse code test for US radio amateur licensing...and pointing out the folly and inapplicability of the FCC keeping that code test. I've never tried to be "anonymous" since I have always identified who I am and what I've done. Since my exact name and mailing address have been printed in over a dozen HR magazine articles published nationally, it would be rididulous to claim I was someone else. :-)

On the other hand, this "Slow Code" doesn't IDENTIFY anything about herself. No callsign, no geographic location, just the implication her citizenship is USA. All her output consists of is half-century old bigoted blabbering about "laziness" and "ignorance" of not taking up telegraphy. That is posturing and preening which "John Smith" has correctly identified.

Tsk, Brian, that is asking for the impossible. Quitefine would never admit who she really was. :-)

If there be a "double standard" in here, it is the "band of sisters" who embrace morsemanship as the epitome of amateur radio skills. Such morsepersons are incapable of wrongdoing among themselves. They are self-proclaimed Masters of radio and demand that all be as good as They. I.e., all should dumb down to their level of Mastership, hold fast to the standards of the 1930's style of amateurism, and worship at the Church of St. Hiram. Amen.

She's a girly-boy. It does smoke on Taffy's little weenie though.
